LETTER FROM THE HEAD

Dear Lick-Wilmerding Students:

I take this opportunity to thank each of you for your wonderful greeting of the new guy on the block. I have felt incredibly welcomed by each of you and your daily smiles and hellos are a testament to your commitment to our community. I remember when I addressed the students after being named as Head of School and a student asked what my favorite word was. I replied, after much thought, "Community." In typical Lick style, the auditorium gave a big "ahhh," and then we all shared a laugh.

In truth, the importance of community is vital to our identity as a school. Because we admit students from so many different middle schools, and because we all bring our unique gifts to the school each day, how we forge a common core of values and identity becomes all that more important. This community is born out of the work you do to welcome each other and support each other. Whether it is watching the sumo robot wrestling in the café, or attending the amazing one act plays, or cheering on one of our many sport teams, or beating University at Oracle (yes we did!), the spirit of care permeates the relationships of the school.

I also thank Mr. King and all the editors of the yearbook for their hard work producing this edition of The Tiger. Their dedication is yet another example of the spirit of service and care in our community. I wish all of you a peaceful and restful summer. Seniors, I wish you all the best as you head off to your next adventures. My hope for you is that you continue to love learning and that you feel comfortable in your own skin. You have been an exemplary class and I thank you for your leadership of the school this summer.

With fondness,

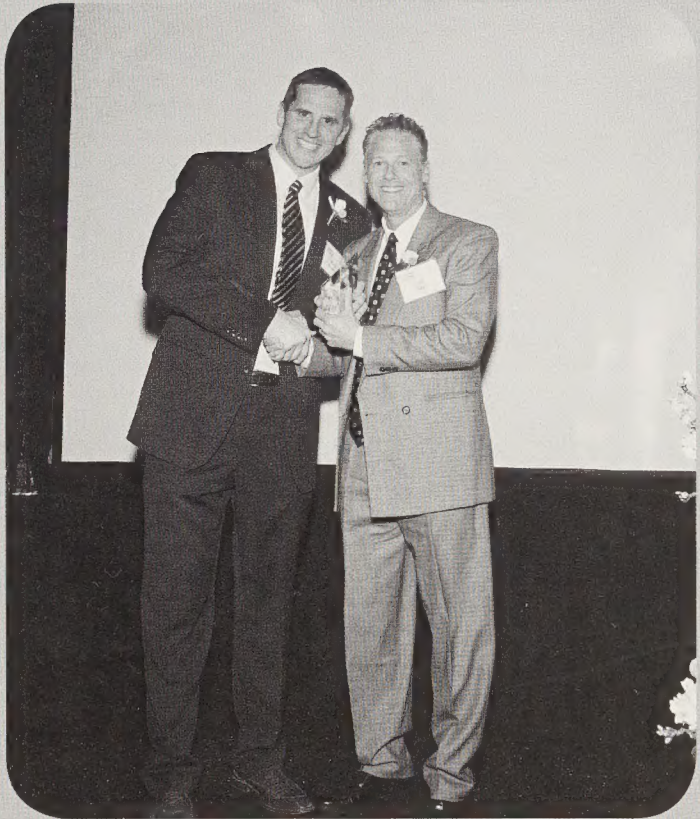

Eric Temple
Head of School

DEDICATION

Coach Eliot Smith has been a staple of Lick-Wilmerding for over 20 years. Having been an athletic director and coach, he has touched numerous student-athletes, but his reach extends beyond the realm of sports. When freshmen come to school in mid-August for the first time, they undoubtedly hear a ceremonial Lick-Wilmerding cheer, and watch as Coach Smith energetically spells out our fourteen magical letters and one hyphen. Even on the last day of school we all get the privilege to watch as Coach dances and cheers as students move from one part of the theater to another. The truth is that even if you are not an athlete, you have been lucky enough to experience Coach Smith.

No other teacher or faculty member represents the soul of the school like Coach. His constant energy and smile are a radiant beam of cheeriness shining through what could be a bad game, match or day. Coach cares deeply about each member of the Lick-Wilmerding community. Often one will find themselves engaged in a conversation with Coach about their family or how their day is going, simply because Coach is genuinely interested in every student, faculty member, and parent.

This year was an extra special year for Coach. He helped lead his varsity boys' basketball team to its first championship in five years. He received a national coaching award, recognizing him for his commitment to the development of athletes both on and off the court. He headed an athletic department that consistently defeated University across many sports.

Coach Smith has been and will continue to be the lifeblood of the school. Lick simply would not be Lick without the Eliot Smith energy that is so pervasive, contagious, and unique. With all of that in mind, there is no doubt that the first yearbook of the year should go to Coach.

THE YEARBOOK STAFF

Year-book Staff [yeer-book stahf]

A group of selfless and dedicated individuals who willingly donate their time to create a book that will hopefully mean something to you someday in the future.

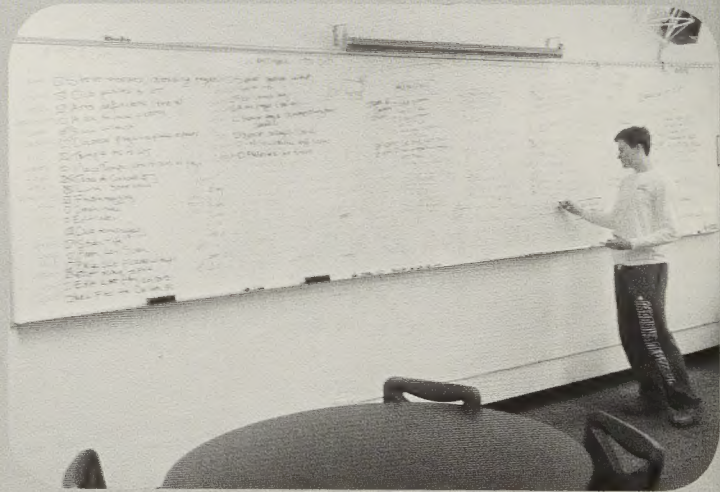

Letter from the Editors

When one hears the word yearbook, one indubitably conjures up images of grandeur: heroic staffers and editors riding off on pristine white horses whilst carrying the fruits of their labor to the printers. But the truth is that yearbook isn't always what it's cooked up to be. While there are certainly moments of glory, much of our time is spent taking photos, slaving away for hours on end laying out pages, and redacting material to protect the innocent. Nonetheless, for the most part, we enjoy what we do.

We love to see the result of all our hard work; we love to deliver all of the yearbooks to our peers; we love to admire the beauty of the pages that we've created; but most importantly, we love to be done with yearbook, at least until next year. Once the yearbook is delivered, our job is done. No longer are we plagued by an incessant need to defenestrate every computer because it simply won't do what we want it to. We are free from deadlines and free from the 240 pages that controlled us for the best part of nine months.

As much as we complain about all the laying out we do and how underappreciated we all are, we manage to have fun. That is why it was a pleasure for us to spend all of those late nights remaking a page for the fourth time, or attending yet another sporting event to take photos.

The 2012 yearbook builds off of 2011's. While bookies are still largely anti-theme, we (as in Trey was forced to concede to Caroline and Stephanie's unyielding need for a unifying idea) decided to have a yearbook with no theme, but with a concept. To us, a concept is something that ties the yearbook together, but does not overwhelm the content.

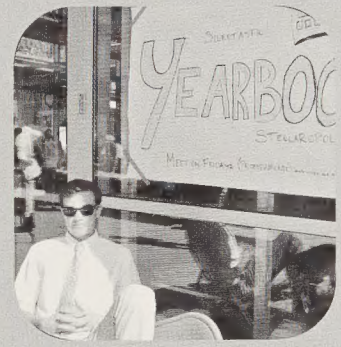

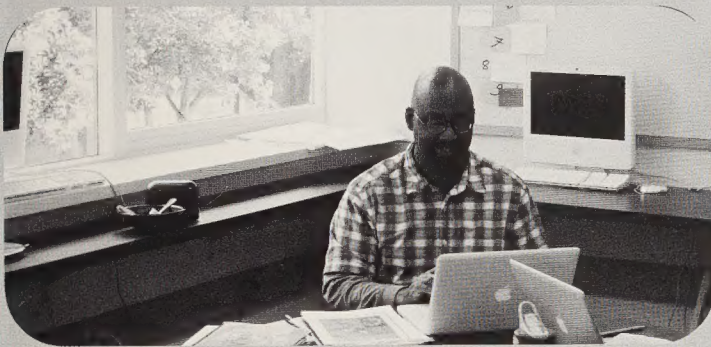

Yearbook Staff

Adviser: Oscar King

Editors: Trey Tickner '12,
Stephanie Chung '13
and Caroline Doyle '13
Staff: Taylor Welsh '12,
Rose Paxton '13, Sofi
Chavez '13, Molly Dicke
'14, Leigh Engel '14,
Claire Stacy '14, Sophie
Schneider '15, Bix
Archer '15

As with every yearbook, we are tasked with capturing the soul of our school as best as we can, thus the concept we decided on (with the help of Sofi Chavez) was dictionary. When you page through this book, you will notice the occasional comical definition, which is a lighthearted attempt to capture the temperament of the group being described.

This yearbook also has a distinct lack of color. We are not going to say it's because the administration wouldn't give us the money, but we will say that we decided to allocate the money elsewhere, namely to the cover. If you haven't noticed by this point you are either too excited about reading this letter or blind, but there is a Varsity Letter on the front. While not everyone at Lick plays sports, we thought the varsity letter provided the perfect popping aesthetic, and added an element of uniqueness to our yearbook.

Although, as editors, we like to think of the yearbook as ours, it truly is the product of everyone, as none of this would be possible without the fantastic people who do so many fantastic things at this fantastic school. But, we want to extend a special thank you to those who provided extra special help. To every person that we bugged for photos this year, thank you. To every person who we made write something for the yearbook, thank you. And, an extra special thank you to Oscar King, our valiant leader who lead us through times of trial and tribulation yet retained an air of cool and fun, without whom none of this would be possible, and it all certainly would not have been as fun.

Our greatest hope for this yearbook is that in 20 years you can find this on your shelf (I pity da foo who don't have it on their shelf), and recall your 2011-2012 high school year.

All the best,
Trey, Caroline, and Stephanie

STUDENT LIFE

Stu-dent Li-fe [stood-nt lah-yf]

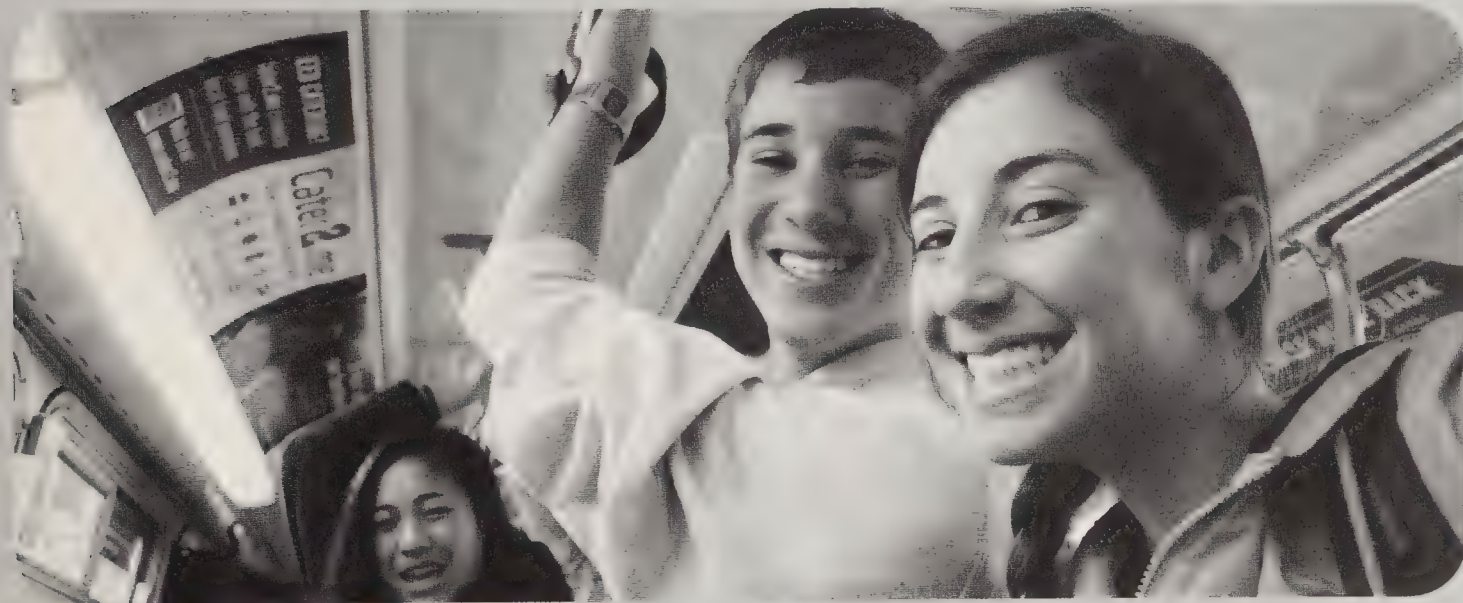

All the stuff that happens outside of the classroom. Many consider it to be the most important part of the Lick-Wilmerding experience.

Although taking public transportation to school can be a pain with Muni's delays, overcrowding, and other inadequacies, it can also be a wonderful way to meet people from both in and outside of Lick and form communities with the other people who share your pain.

The main bus lines that are taken to Lick: 43-Masonic, 29-Sunset, 49-Van Ness/Mission, the 54-Felton, K-Ingleside, and J-Church. In addition to Muni, many a Lick youth BART, drive, walk and bike to school.

EXTREME COUPONING

The coupon, a glorious conglomeration of text and imagery, but most importantly delicious lines varying in thickness forming its own respiratory system. When it is scanned, and the distinguished beep of acceptance is heard, it is not only a moment of money being deducted from the subtotal, but also a moment when my disencumbered heart can be exposed with excitement. This excitement is even further sparked by the angry cashier prematurely ripping my receipt out of the machine, and slapping it into the bag, almost damaging the packaging of my precious Colgate toothpaste. While the addition of yet another dental product to my stockpile is fantastic, the addition to my heart is what will forever inspire me.

FREE THE CHILDREN

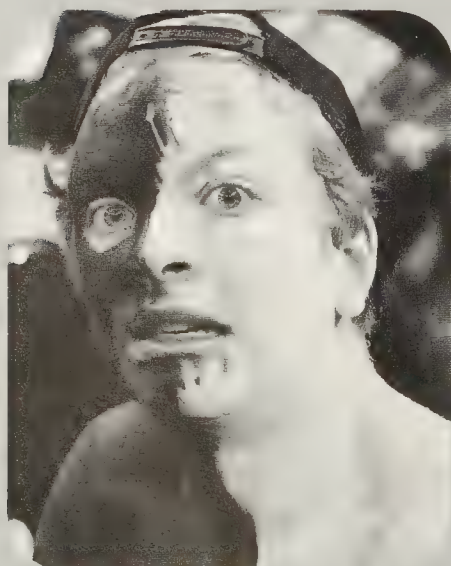

Juniors Leila Roberts and Stephanie Chung have been part of the non-profit organization Free the Children since the spring of 2010. Free the Children's mission is to educate, engage, and empower the youth. The organization works to provide clean water, health care, sanitation, and education to people around the world, freeing children and their families from the cycle of poverty. Roberts and Chung's goal is to raise $8,500 and build a school in Ecuador. During the summer, the two will be traveling to Ecuador with Free the Children to build the school.

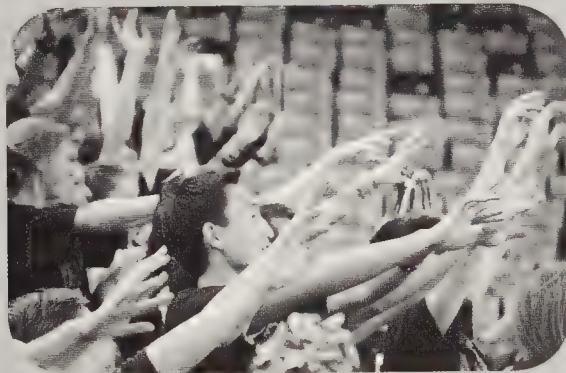

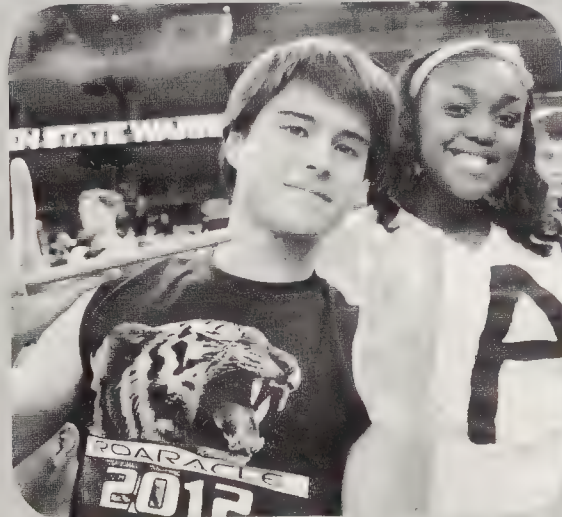

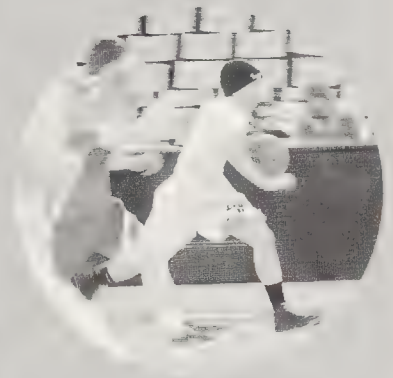

ORACLE

I believe that we will, I believe that we will, I believe that WE HAVE WON!

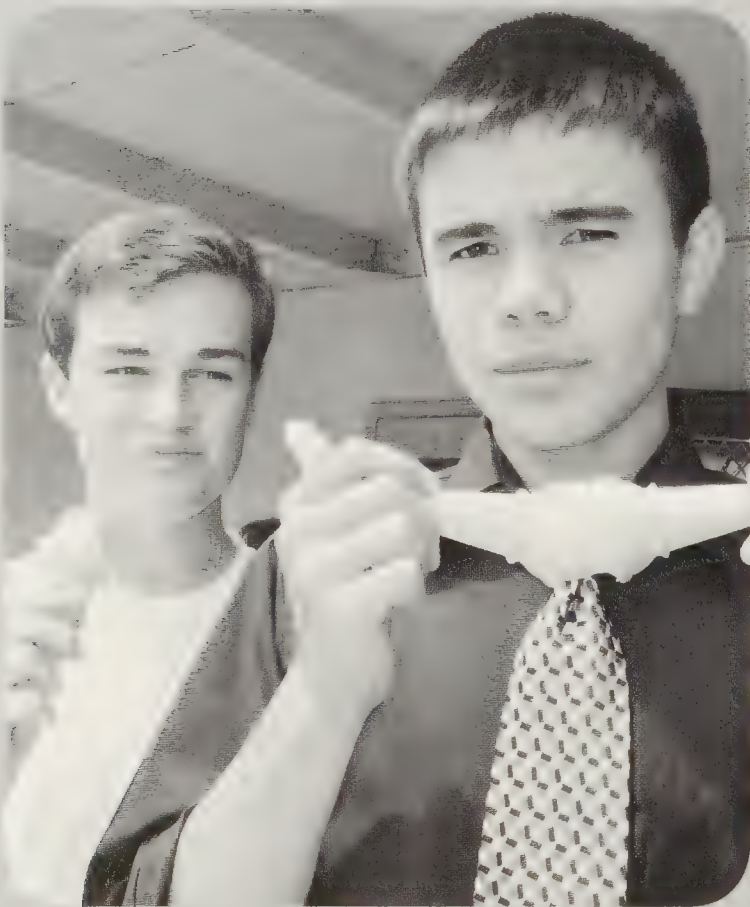

Ahhh. What a joyous time. Oracle is that one Lick experience that permits us all to garb ourselves in black and yellow and cheer for our beloved basketball teams. While there was a moment this year when Oracle was at risk of not happening (NBA players seemed to believe they needed even more money), we were all undoubtedly glad it came together, especially as the boys destroyed University for the first time in this editor's tenure, and the girls fought hard to keep it close.

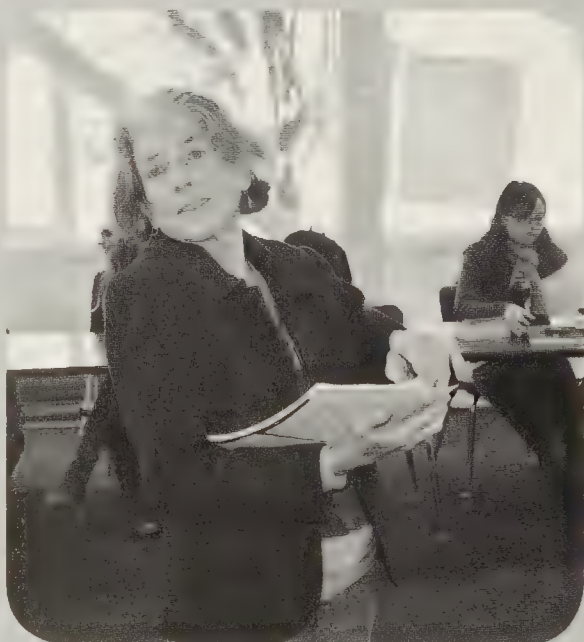

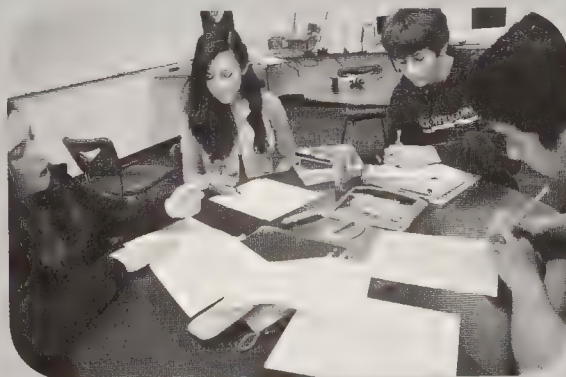

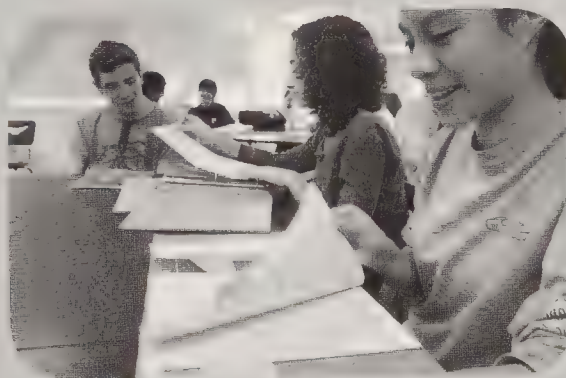

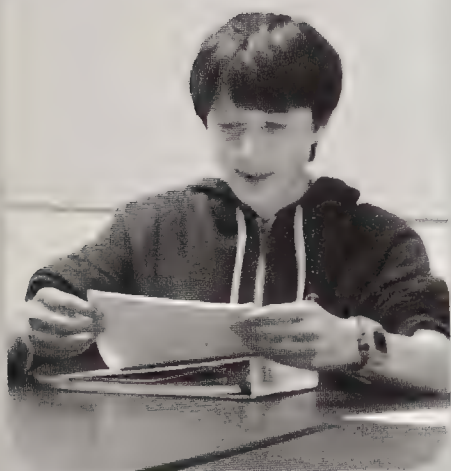

Perhaps even more important than the game (although unlikely) the Community Action Club teamed with the Devils over at Uni to produce a fun spirited clothing drive. Although it ended in a tie, deep down we all know that is only because Uni had been collecting for several weeks. Nonetheless the Lick community rallied as it always does and tied.

One of the beauties of life at Lick is the plethora of random moments that happen, for instance, an editor enviously eying his friend's ice-cream, a bunch of Junior guys breaking out a beat in some classic 60's attire, or Von Breezy teaching a short stories class.

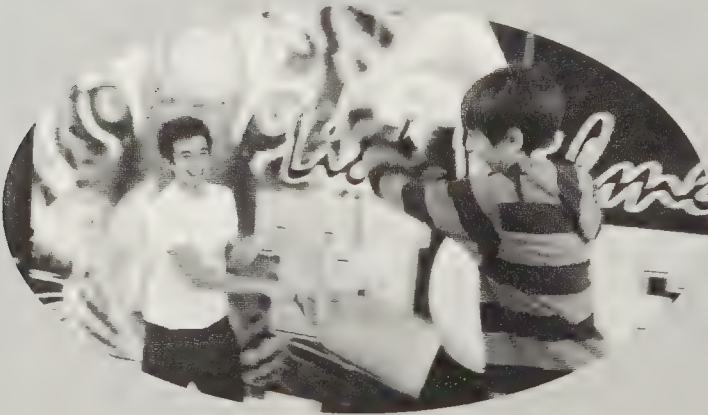

EVENTS

Those moments at Lick that signify a break from the daily block rotation.

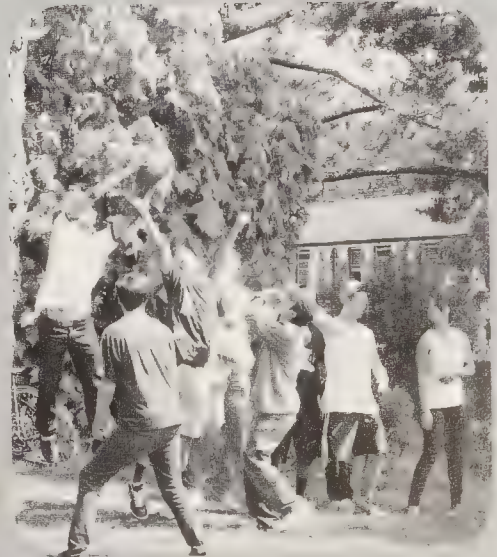

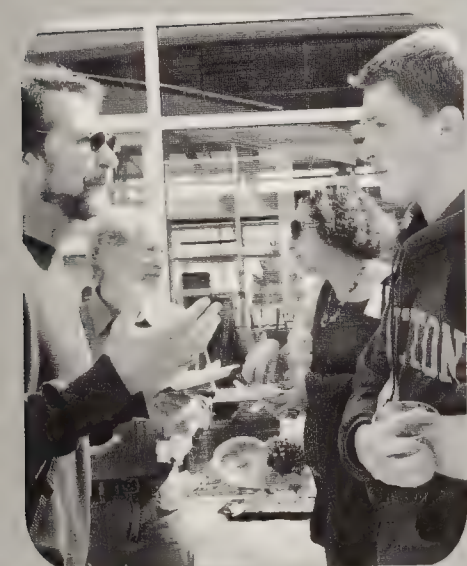

Whether attacking each other with pillows and donning pajamas, or sliding down the slip and slide erected in the shop pit, TGIFs are always a worthwhile student event, but perhaps more importantly they symbolize the beginning of a well-deserved weekend.

Class events are the opportune bonding time for students looking to have some fun with their friends and family. Seniors and froshies enjoy a picnic, sophomores have the dinner-dance (Western themed this year), and Juniors have a post PSAT bbq. Unfortunately for juniors, the bbq is just about the best thing to come out of the PSATs.

At Lick we like to think that we aren't too competitive when it comes to grades and academics; the truth is we are competitive when it comes to class competitions and field day. Hope you wore the proper garb to win your class some Spirit Cup points.

FIELD DAY

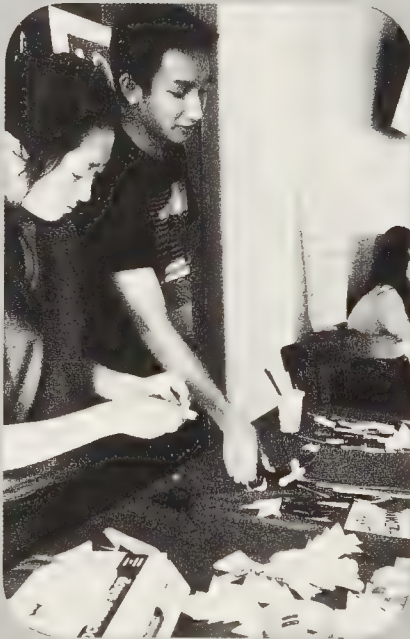

HALLOWEEN

As budding creative minds, Lick students relish in the opportunity to show off their true colors. Luckily, Halloween provides the perfect opportunity. Dress up time!

HOLIDAY FESTIVITIES

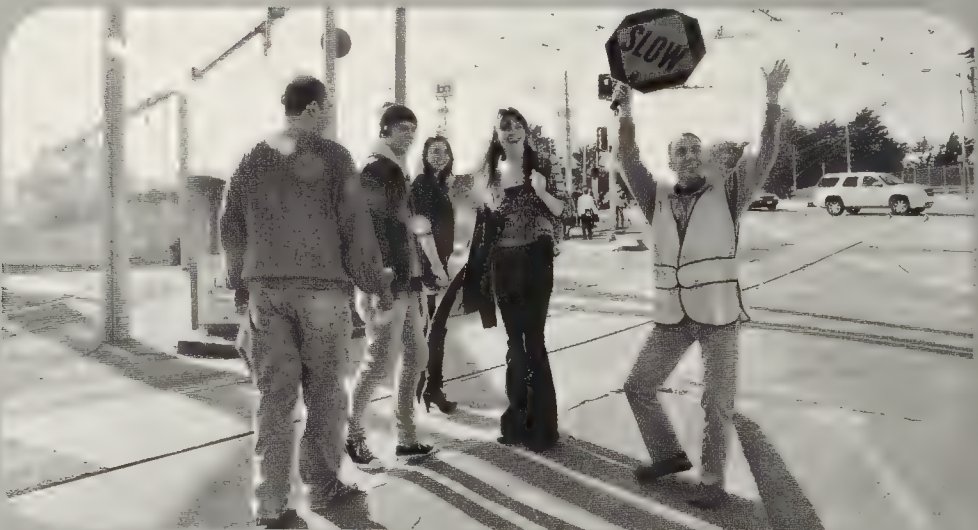

The holidays always prove to be an exciting time at Lick. Whether buying Kinky Karnations, posing with Santa Claus or celebrating Chinese New Year with calligraphy drawing, there is always something going on.

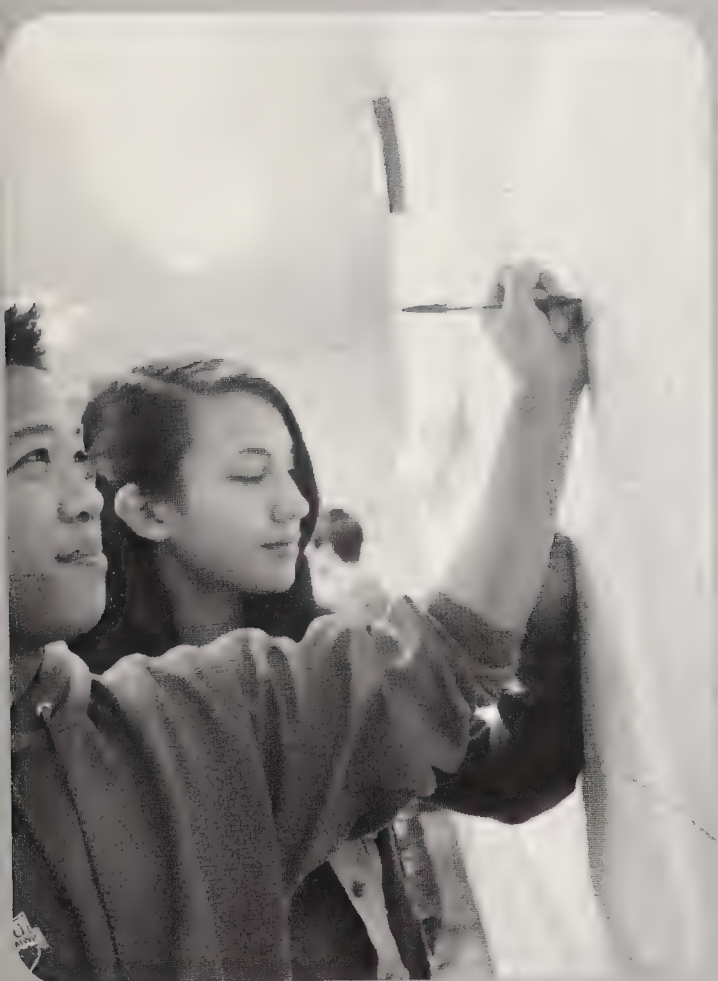

It's no secret that underclassmen tend to annoy the upperclassmen. However, much of that changed this year as mentors and mentees gathered together at the Peer Connect events. The bonding events ranged from Bingo Day to ice skating at the Yerba Buena.

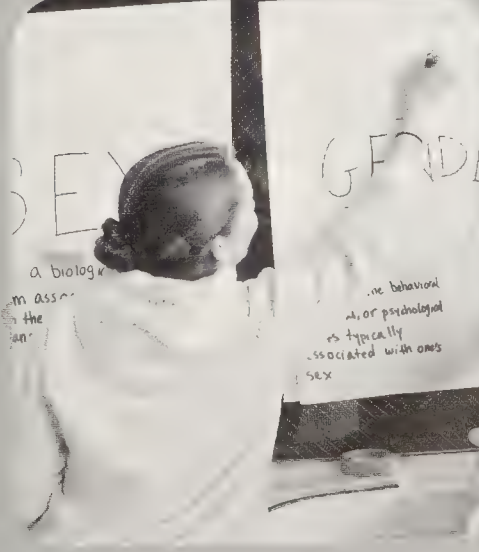

Living on the ring of fire has its drawbacks. While we get to have the Pacific Ocean as our backyard, we also need to be prepared for earthquakes. Luckily we have got an administration with the foresight to prepare us all with an annual earthquake drill. When an earthquake does strike we should be good to go.

Walk with a Purpose has become an annual Lick event that explores diversity. Students self-selected into affinity groups and had meaningful discussions. This year's focus was how aspects of identity such as race, ethnicity, or sexual identity, inform our views on gender and gender roles.

FIELD TRIPS

Field Trip [feeld trip]

A student's excuse to get out of the classroom.

Field trips: Joyous escapes from the confines of a classroom. What we can't decide is whether we enjoy more the field trip or the lack of homework.

SENIOR RETREAT

The beginning of any senior year means reminiscing and coming together. Senior retreat provides the seniors with the perfect opportunity to catch up, remember our first three years and to look forward to our last one. Hopefully the year was all it was built up to be!

The frosh vs. faculty basketball game is always a highlight of student life. Upperclassmen love to see the freshies lose, just like they did. While the refs may have something to do with the faculty's high win percentage, it is still a lot of fun for everyone involved.

FACULTY VS FROSH
BASKETBALL GAME

DANCES

Danc·es [dans-is]

A chance to have fun with peers in a safe and extra school-friendly environment.

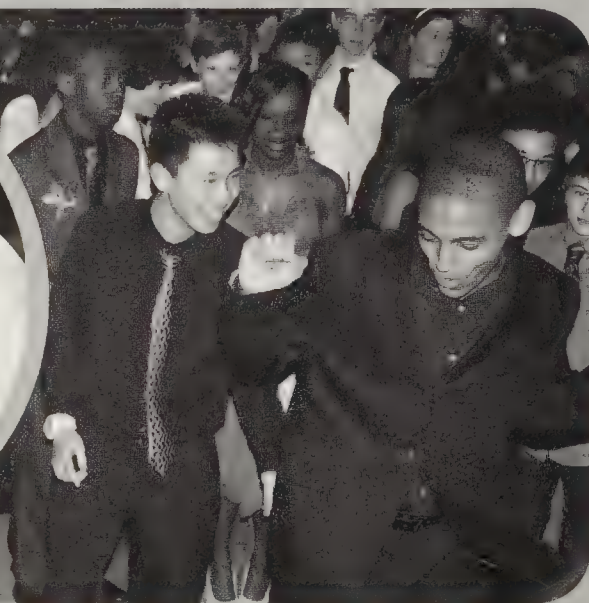

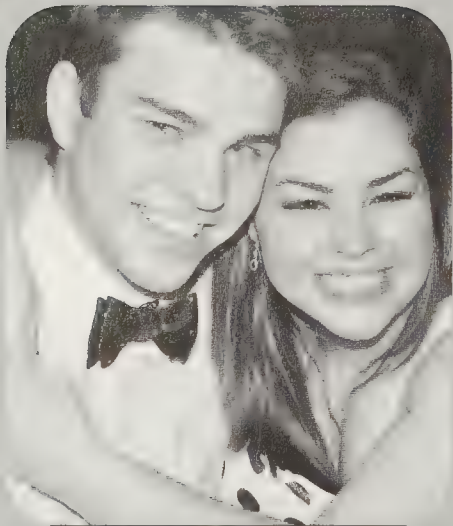

Howth. The name of a street, but more importantly the name of everybody's favorite dance. Every fall, dance committee sets to creating a fun dance that takes place at Lick. This year the theme was super hero, allowing each Lick student to don the costume of their favorite childhood idol. Though we are not too familiar with some of the superheroes you see here. #opportunitymissed

WINTER FORMAL:
ATLANTIS

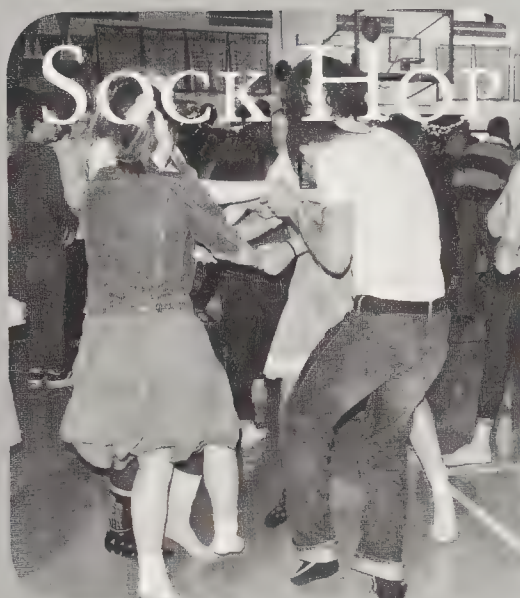

Atlantis: Winter Formal 2012

Winter Formal is the second SDRO (school dance rage opportunity) of the year and the first one that allows everybody to dress up all formal like. While we may wear PJs to school every once in a while, we know how to dress up when Although dress down may be more appropriate term....

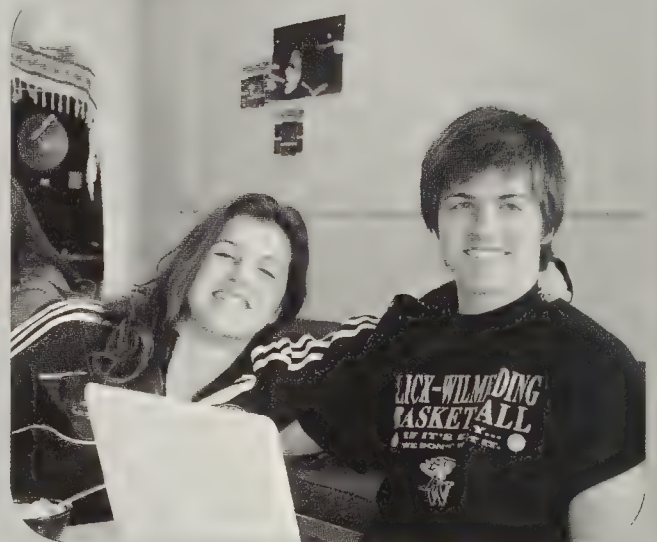

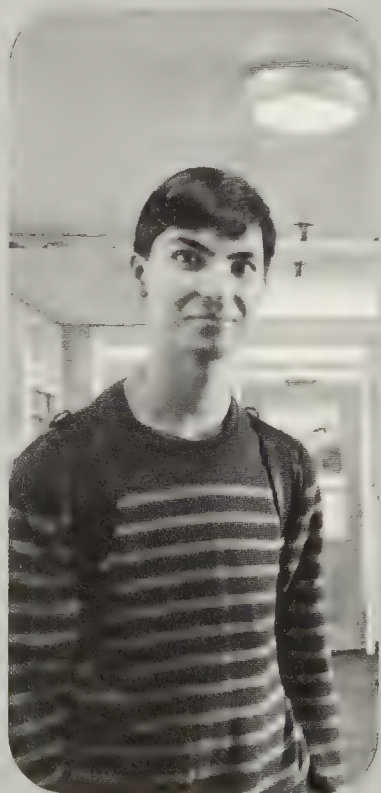

SENIOR SECTION

The senior section is one of the most colorful and expressive places on the Lick campus. This year's seniors decorated the section with some photos of their favorite artists as well as a 49ers scarf commemorating the Niners epic trip to the NFC Championship, a moment many have been waiting for since they were born.

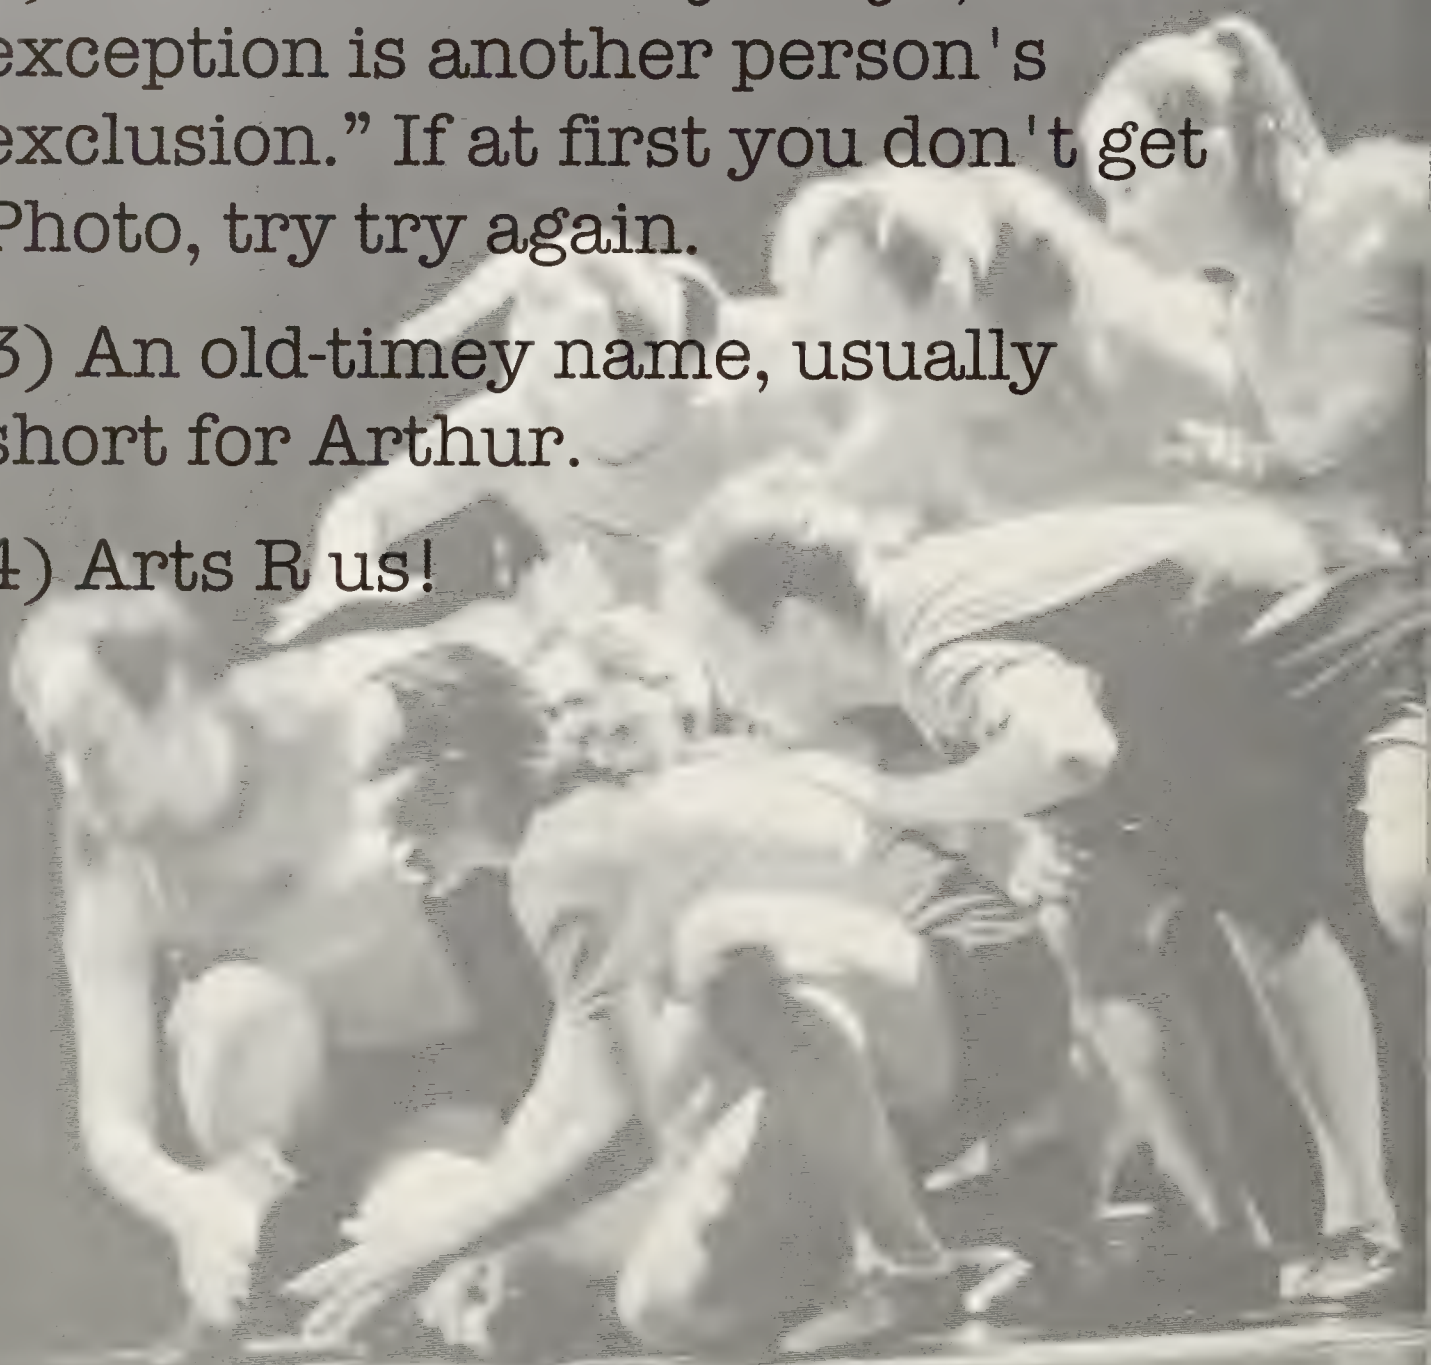

-ARTS-

1) The expression of a personal aesthetic, see also Beauty is in the eye of the beholder.

2) As Ms. Finn always says, "Your exception is another person's exclusion." If at first you don't get Photo, try try again.

3) An old-timey name, usually short for Arthur.

4) Arts R us!

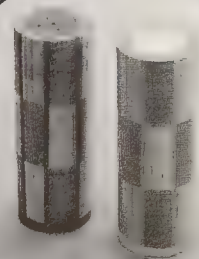

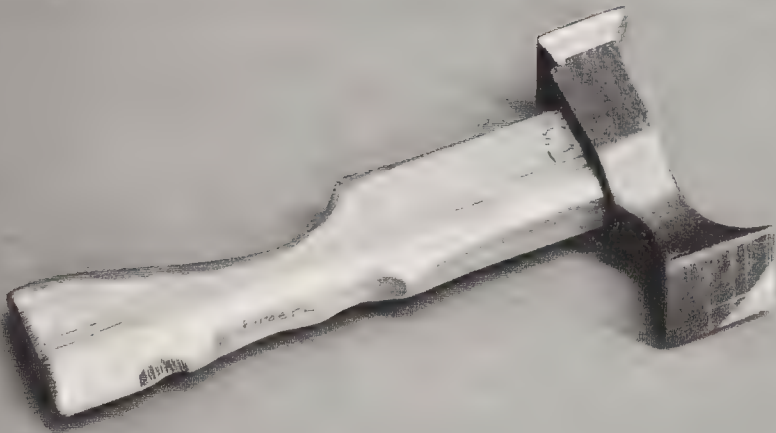

TECHNICAL ARTS

tech·ni·cal arts [tek-ni-kuhl ahrts]
The “hands” in head, heart and hands.

WOOD

METAL FABRICATIONS

met·al fab·ri·ca·tions [met-l fab-ri-key-shuhns]

Where sparks fly.

Heat it! Hammer it! Weld it! Bend it! Turn it into sparks! Feel 2500 degrees of warmth as your piece of steel begins to glow. Pull it out of the forge and strike it with repeated determined blows from a 5-pound mallet. Sparks fly as the cooling metal begins take shape. Return the blackened and beaten form back to the roaring fire and let the process begin again.

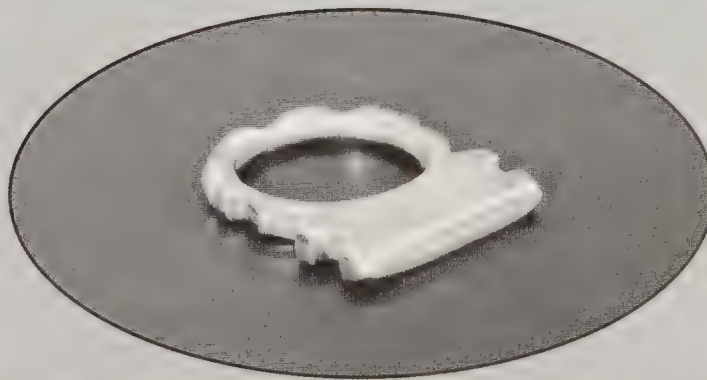

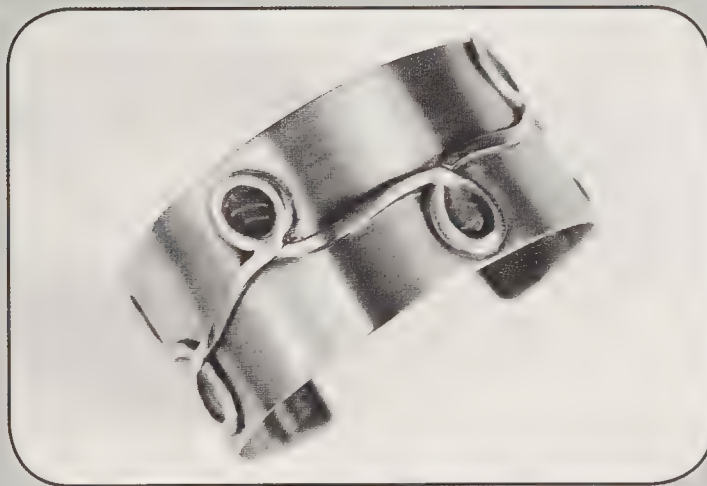

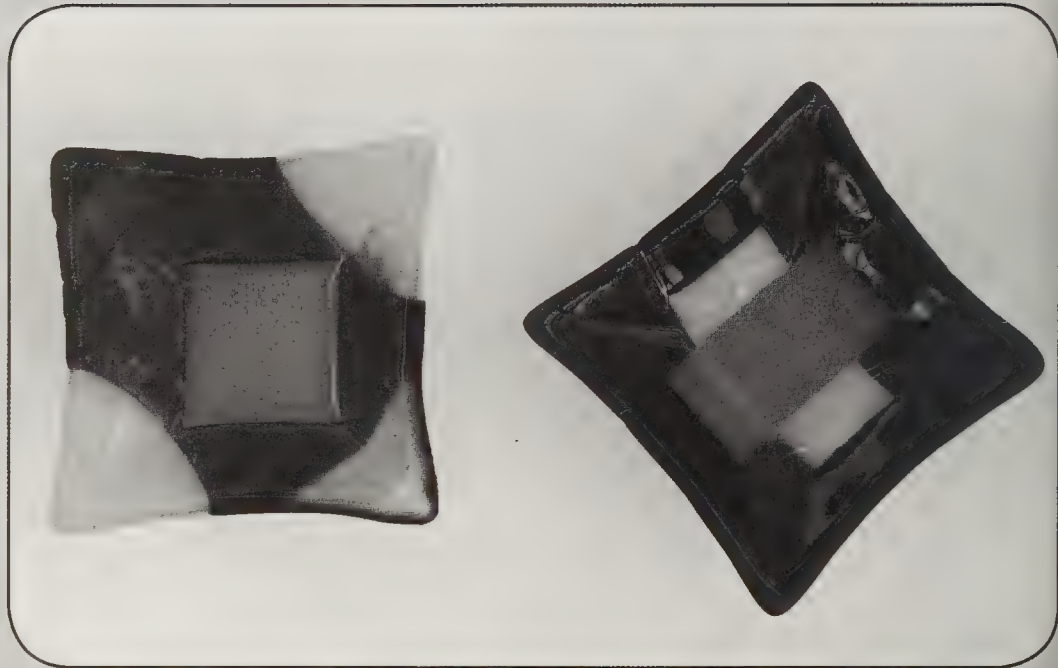

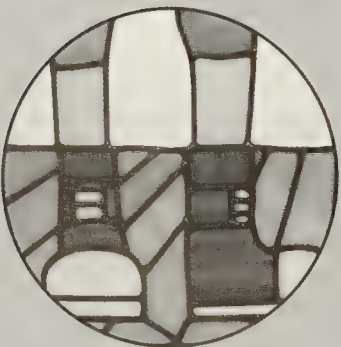

JEWELRY

jew-el-ry [joo-uhl-ree]

“Jewelry shop...it's not just for girls”

“You say jewelry
shop, I say family.”

GLASS

glass [glas, glaHS]

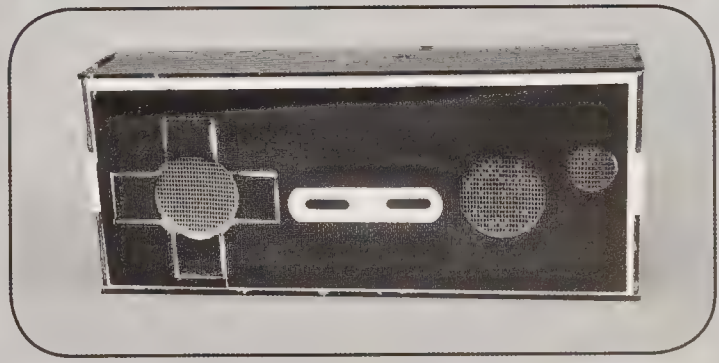

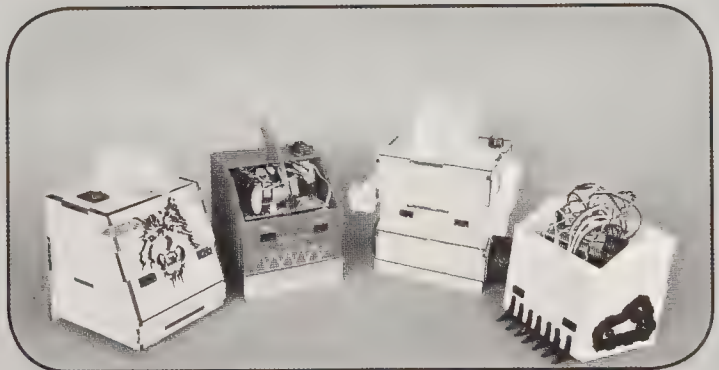

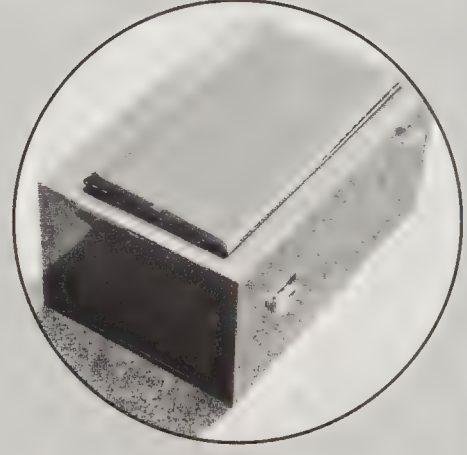

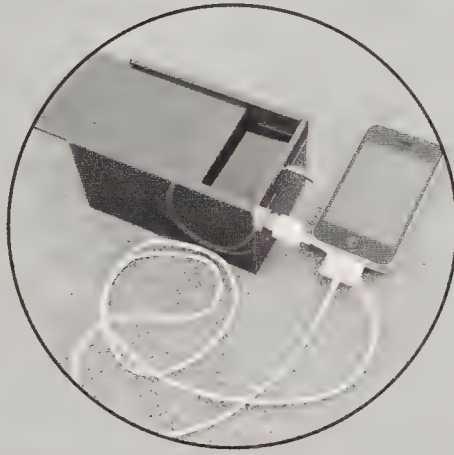

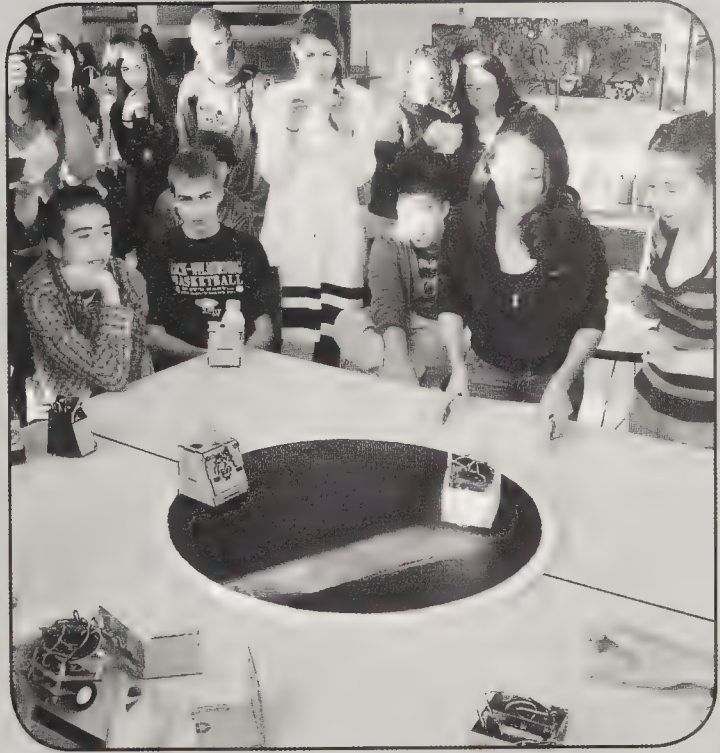

Fragile, shatterable, tangible and transparent, bulletproof and beautiful. Just what is glass: a solid liquid. A glass half full, a glass house. A looking glass. Bend it, shape it, break it, spill it. Stained glass windows, molded bowls, fanciful mosaics and more...

ELECTRONICS

Students in Drawing and Painting classes learn to observe and record shapes, proportion and perspective, using line, tone, texture and color created with conventional tools. They have the opportunity to develop their style and explore their own direction as artists, working in either realistic, abstract, and mixed-media methods. This year, student artists drew and painted the “guzmania” plants, “plein-air landscape”, and explored abstract art through the “cubist” theme. They visted SFMoMA to view the Richard Serra and Mark Bradford exhibits.

CERAMICS & SCULPTURE

A step up from Play-Doh.

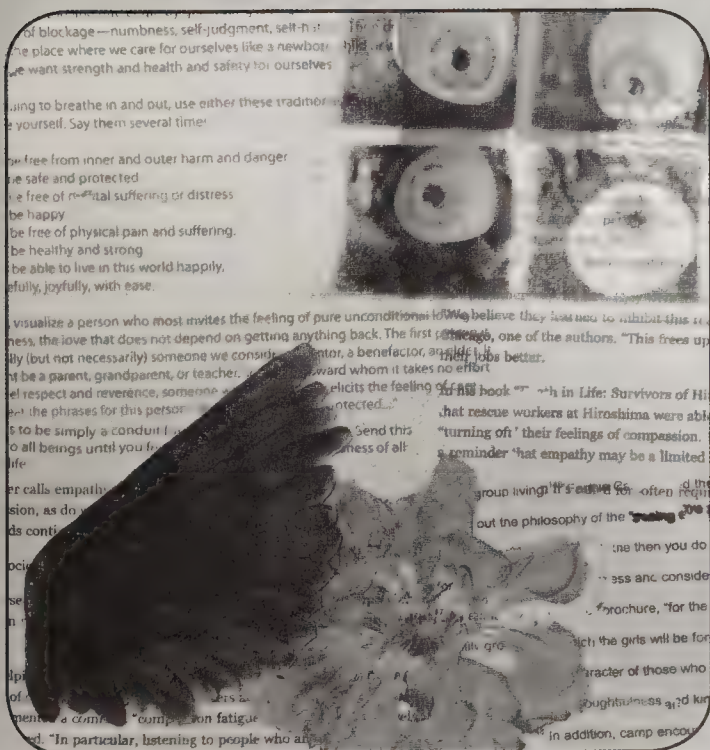

This year, Ceramics & Sculpture students engaged in hand-building methods with clay, wheel forming of ceramic pottery, and glazing. Some assignments required making functional objects, and others were sculptural and allowed expressive work with the figure, portrait and mask. Students visted SFMoMA to view the Richard Serra exhibit. Students also researched a selected artist and presented their material to the class.

MIXED MEDIA

mixed me·di·a [mīkst mee-dee-uh]
The most diverse of all the arts.

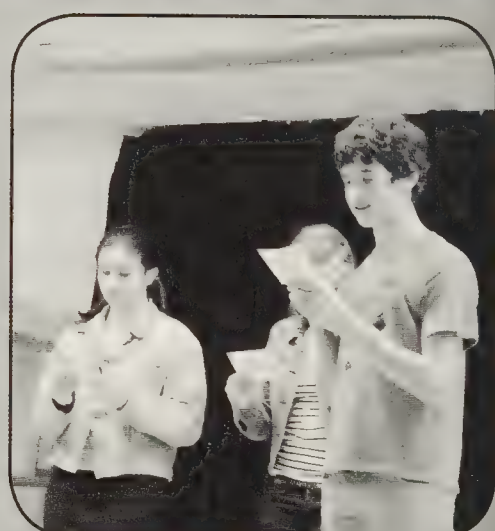

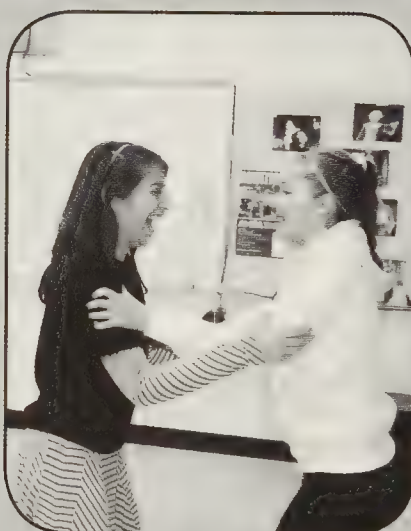

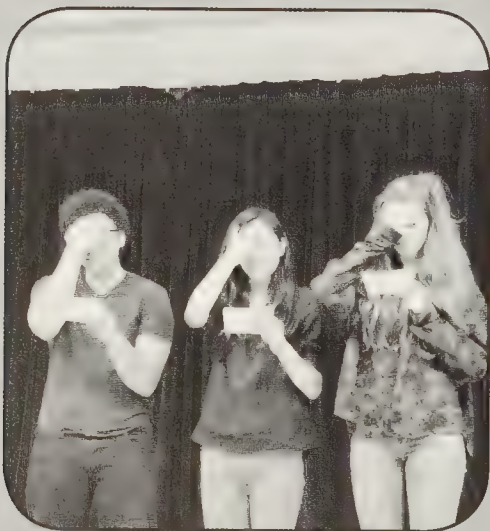

Through exploration, experimentation, and careful observation, students learned to utilize traditional art making materials in novel and personal ways using all manner of dry and wet media. Special attention was paid to the inherent qualities of the media itself, and how this knowledge can be powerfully employed as a tool for visual problem solving. Students also deepened their understanding of composition, substrates, surface quality, layering, form, contour, and color theory.

PERFORMING ARTS

per·form·ing arts [per-fawrm-eeng ahrts]

I'll be in my trailer. Ex. "After four years in the performing arts department, the senior girl developed post-dramatic arts disorder."

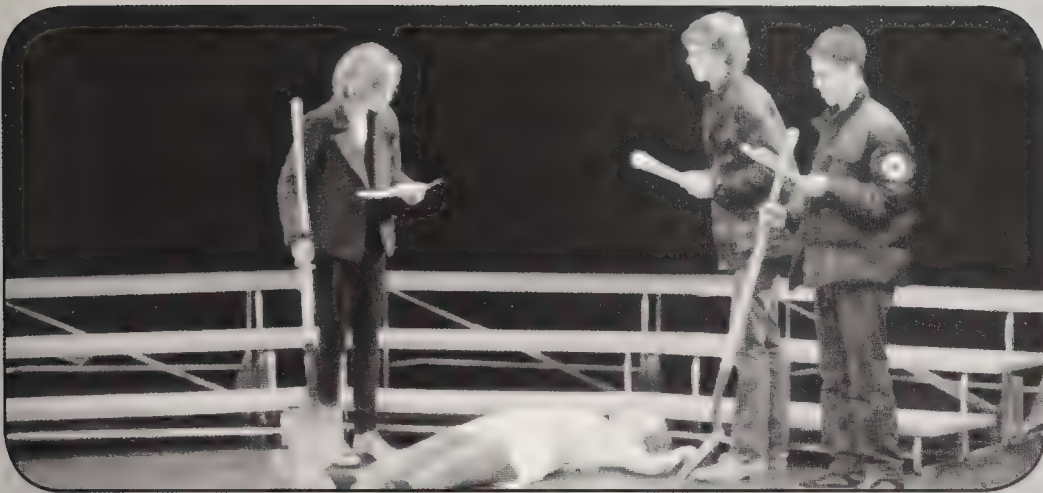

IMPROV

im·prov [im-prov]

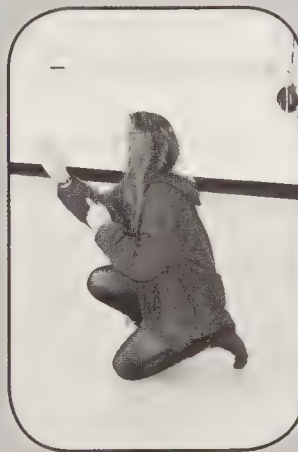

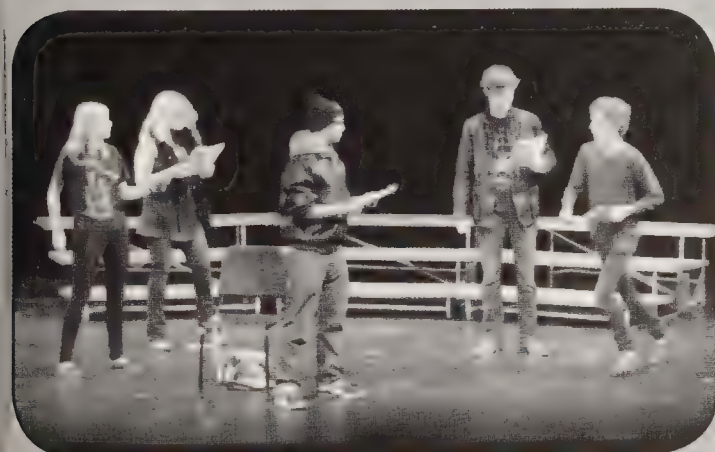

The art of non-scripted acting, in which students learn to listen and react truthfully to unplanned situations, topics, and themes.

In spring 2012, students in this class learned the art of "non-scripted" acting, and started to develop a natural ability to lead and react to situations spontaneously. Some members of the Improv class performed for the Ethics Assembly held on March 6.

act·ing [ak-ting] The art of becoming a character through voice, body, and imagination to create believable characters for the stage.

This year, the students learned many creative ways to express themselves. From contemporary styles to the classics, from Shakespeare to musical theater, the students rehearsed, performed and developed their unique and individual talents. Guest artists, such as SF Shakes and Oregon Shakespeare visited us, and we also took a field trip to A.C.T. and watched the Greek tragedy, Antigone.

FRAK & NICKY C

Alex Fraknoi and Nick Corson (a.k.a Frak & Nicky C) of the senior class joined forces. The story-telling, clever raps of Frak combined with the original tectonic beats of Nicky C to create a hip-hop dynamic duo. They opened the year performing on the first day of school, performed at halftime of the Oracle game, and topped it off with a performance at community meeting. They also released their debut album, "Real Talk," with 16 songs, featuring Matty B, and earning over 13,000 plays.

SPACE AMONG MANY

Space Among Many is the Indie pop project of Sophomores Tano Brock and Jack Gorlin. It is Zach Hollander's favorite band.

Praise for Space Among Many:

"I met these kids at a Dairy Queen and knew they'd be a hit cuz they both ordered blueberry blizzards, classic." - Homer S.

"Dubstep aside, these sounds are the best I've heard since The Wanted put out that single!" - Alex M.

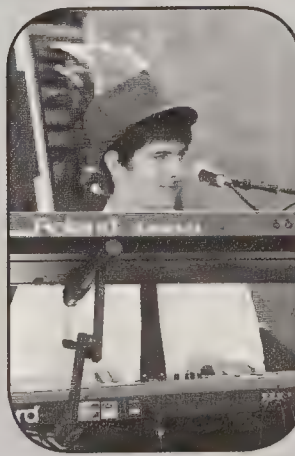

"I play these folks' music on my walkman all the time. I'm starting to wear down the reel." - Martin Van Buren

"Finally something for the whole family!" - Lick Mother

THE ST. VALENTINEZ

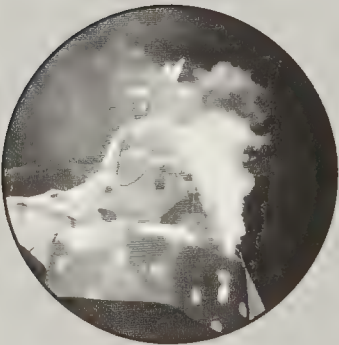

What started as a young group of high school students has developed into a 9-piece band over the past 2 years. Although the musicians are from various schools, Lick students have had a big influence on the band, with Jackson Clawson '13 playing piano, Chris Dietz '13 and Amelia DeSnoo '12 both playing saxophone, and Alex Fraknoi. With their first mini-album out already, they are starting on the long road of writing and recording to produce a second, full-length album before high school graduation in 2013.

ALICE IN WONDERLAND

al·ice in won·der·land [al-is in wuhn-der-land]

The longest known Public Service Announcement; tagline "You're never too young to learn about the dangers of drugs."

Adapted for the Lick-Wilmerding stage, this fantasy classic was brought to life using all kinds of puppetry arts including shadow, marionette, and a "mad tea-table" that spun around as well as danced on the stage. Local elementary and middle schools were invited to attend two special student matinees on November 3 and 5. The theater was jam-packed with kids! A "talk back" session immediately followed the show.

ONE ACTS

one acts [wuhn akts]

- 1) An annual festival of short plays written, directed, designed, acted in and celebrated by Lick-Wilmerding students.
- 2) Dramaturgy at its finest.

This year's One Acts were a blast. With around one fourth of the school involved in performing, designing, writing and directing the festival, we put on an awesome and enjoyable show. The eight plays featured a variety of characters ranging from living statues to broken sinks to aging rockstars. This year's directors pass the torch onto next year's group. Best of luck, and special thanks to all those who acted in, designed, and came to this year's One Acts!

BYE BYE BIRDIE

bye bye bird·ie [bahy bahy bur-dee]
Almost "Grease."

This year's musical comedy was based on 1950's pop culture, and featured soaring music and lyrics, exuberant dances, and an elaborate, colorful set. The students made this year's spring musical a smash hit, singing and dancing their hearts out to one of Broadway's most beloved and popular musicals.

ASSEMBLIES

as·sem·blies [uh-sem-blees]

Noun: A gathering of many unenthusiastic people.

Verb: To squeeze in the theater.

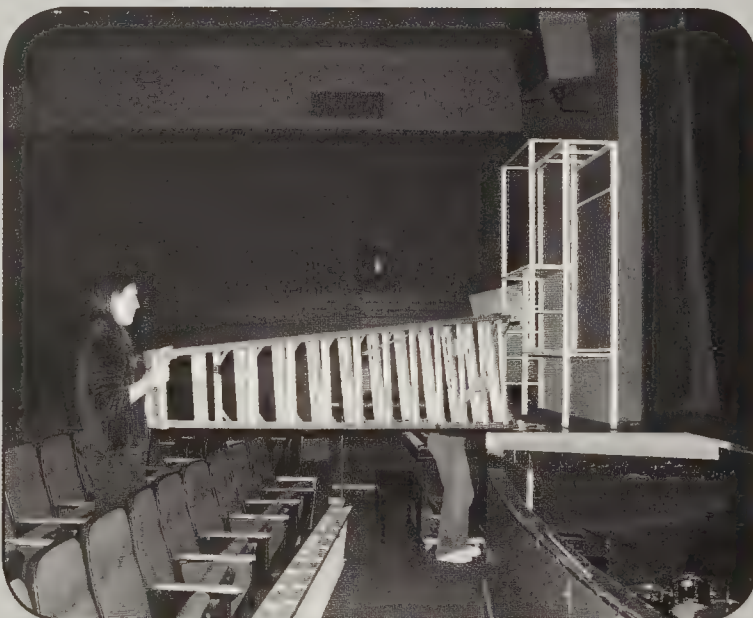

Throughout the year, we had a variety of talented and accomplished individuals come to visit us at our assemblies: From political candidates to innovative storytellers. Many of our own peers also performed for us: Queen Shabazz '13 presented her poetry, the students who traveled to Senegal spoke about their time there, and Nathan Chan '11 and Clara Chan '14 performed on the cello and violin. Of course, what everyone most looked forward to was the chance to win the famed "swag bag" every Monday morning community meeting and envied the lucky few who were chosen to receive it.

STAGE- CRAFT

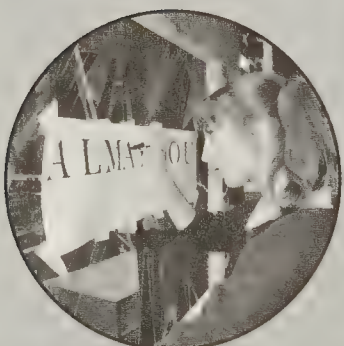

stage-craft [steyj-kraft, -krahft] Saws, drills, screws, props, lights, boards, hammers, and a lot of saw dust.

In stagecraft, students build sets for the school's plays. Students learn how to operate tools such as saws, staple guns, drills, and many more.

Students also learn how to run lights and sound during a show.

Students adjust the lights and learn how to run the lightning board.

Stagecraft students also gather props, figure out costumes, and paint the set. All the set and props you see on stage are the hard work of the stagecraft class.

-SPORTS-

1. An athletic activity requiring skill or prowess
2. A state-sponsored religion
3. An activity for the prevention of doing homework

Boys' Junior Varsity Soccer

Boys' Frosh-Soph Soccer

Girls' Varsity Volleyball

Girls' Varsity Tennis

Girls' Junior Varsity Tennis

This was the first year for our brand new soccer field over at City College.

Over 50 boys came out for the boys' soccer teams in the fall. The varsity boys had a fantastic season and ended up beating University 1-0 in the BCL West Soccer semi-finals, then played Marin Academy for the championship. The team then went on to play Fort Bragg in the North Coast Section playoffs. The team was led by first year Coach Gavin Birmingham and the ten seniors on this year's squad. The JV boys were led by first year coach Ryan Corriveau. They had a great season, coming in 2nd place at the end of the year soccer jamboree. The frosh-soph boys' soccer team had 15 players, and were led by Coach Eliot Smith. They ended with a winning record against other JV soccer teams.

The cross country team was led by hall of fame coach Jeff Gardiner, and his assistants Alex Wu and Ashley Relf. The varsity girls came in 6th place at the State Finals in Fresno, where the varsity boys were represented by Michael Kreher. It was a great year for the JV boys, who came in 2nd place in multiple tournaments and ended up winning the BCL West JV Championship.

This was also a great year for girls' tennis. We had over 15 girls on the JV team, led by first year coach Mike Esola. The varsity girls' team had 14 girls on this year's team, and were led by Coach Bill Jepsen. Varsity came in 2nd place during the league season and, for the first time in five years, qualified for the North Coast Section tennis playoffs.

Varsity girls' volleyball was led by first year coach Gary Hodge and his loyal assistant, Spencer Yu. The varsity girls made it to the semi-finals of the BCL West Division. The JV girls' team was led by first year coach Joel Chan, and ended up with a winning record during the season. They came in 2nd place during the J.V. Volleyball Jamboree. It was another great fall season for Lick-Wilmerding.

-Coach Eliot Smith

Cross Country

Boys' Soccer

Soc·cer [säkr]

The one thing in which America is not as good as Europe.

Boys' varsity soccer had the strongest season in recent program history, finishing 2nd in league. After only four losses during the season, the Tigers stormed into the playoffs with the 3rd seed, ready to take down 2nd seed University. Having lost to the devils in the regular season, the Tigers prevailed in a hard fought 1-0 victory. The team moved on to the finals, and was dealt a tough loss to national powerhouse Marin Academy. The Tigers were lead by a core group of nine seniors, who provided the leadership to be league finalists and qualify for NCS.

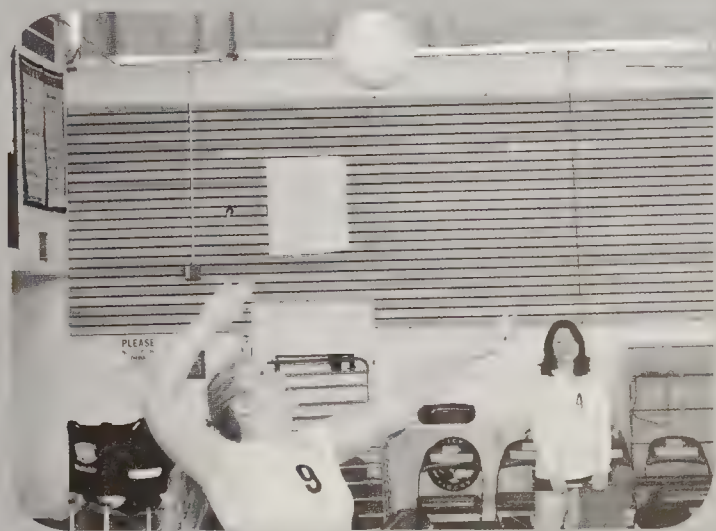

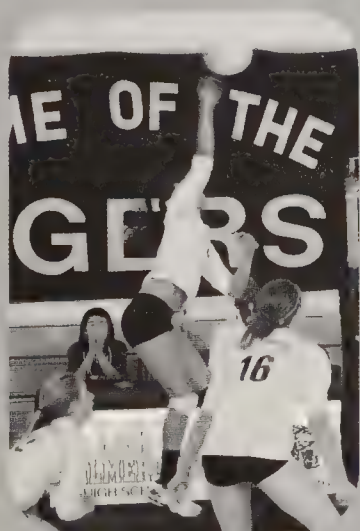

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL

Vol·ley·ball [vol-ee-bawl]

The only sport where spandex is required, falling down is considered hardcore, and killing is allowed.

The girls' varsity volleyball team was lead by captains Katie Waters, Brenda Young, and Jessica Erlich. What was a strong season, had its moments of adversity including losing 5 starters and having a highly competitive schedule. Lick's Volleyball team was in a transition year, yet we still ended with a great record. Next year will be a time for new players to emerge and the seniors are leaving the team in more than capable junior hands, Chantelle Schultz, Annie Wilson, and Stacey Cheong. Go Lick!

Cross-coun·try [kraws-kuhn-tree]

"A small body of determined runners fired by an unquenchable faith in their mission can alter the course of history." Mohandas Gandhi's words echo through time and space, and have long fallen upon deaf ears. However, a small group of determined individuals, of long-distance runners, has heard his call. The Lick-Wilmerding Cross Country team, unwavering in its faith, champions a new era; an era of strength, justice, and determination. A team of which Gandhi would be proud, the Cross Country team creates its own history. We are legacy.

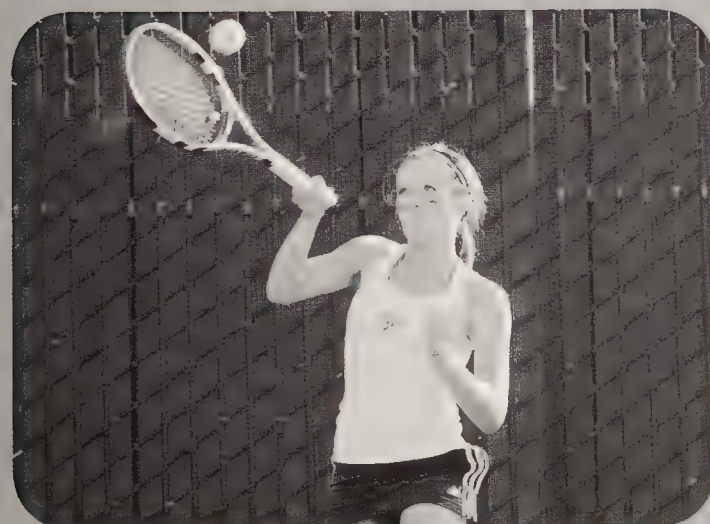

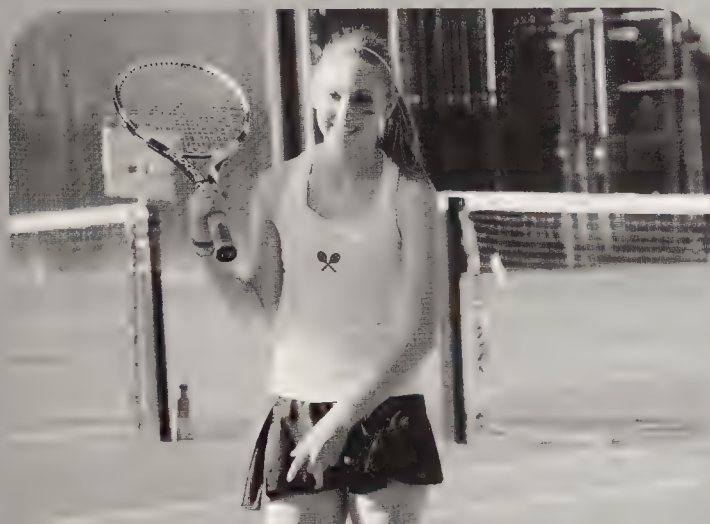

This was the Cross-Country team's strongest year as a whole, according to their coach, Jeffrey Gardiner, and assistant coaches, Alex Wu '05 and Ashley Relf. The girls' team took 6th place at the State meet, 4th at NCS and 3rd at BCL, setting school records for fastest team times at each as well as shattering some individual school records. The boys team also had a strong year. Their frosh-soph took 1st place at BCL and placed well in multiple races, and Michael Kreher qualified and ran well at the State meet. Several boys also earned a spot on the top 15 lists. They hope to come back even stronger next year. Not only were the teams successful, but they also had a lot of fun with over 60 runners, a Cross-Country retreat and lots of team spirit!

GIRLS' TENNIS

Ten-nis [ten-is]

Where love means nothing, and winning means everything.

After a difficult season in 2010, the girls' varsity tennis team had a breakthrough season defeating league opponent Marin Academy in the final game of the season to clinch the 2nd in league. Although the team dealt with tough losses in both NCS and in the semifinals of league playoffs, over the course of the season, Coach Bill Jepsen and his senior girls willed the team to six league and three non-league wins, to finish 9-4. More than anything, though, the girls will remember the camaraderie and friendships.

WINTER ATHLETICS

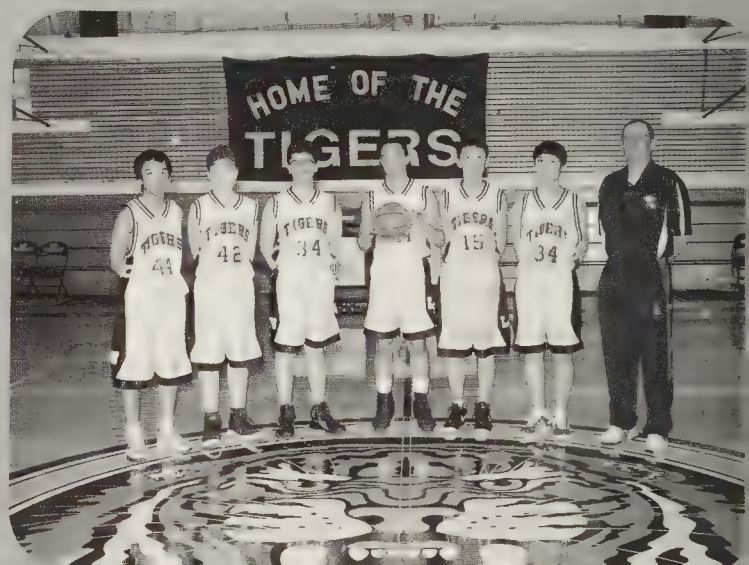

Boys' Varsity Basketball

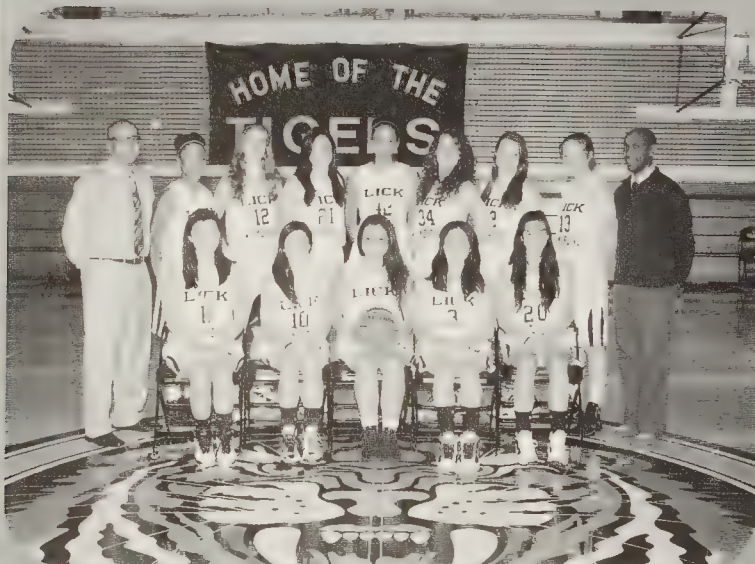

Boys' Junior Varsity Basketball

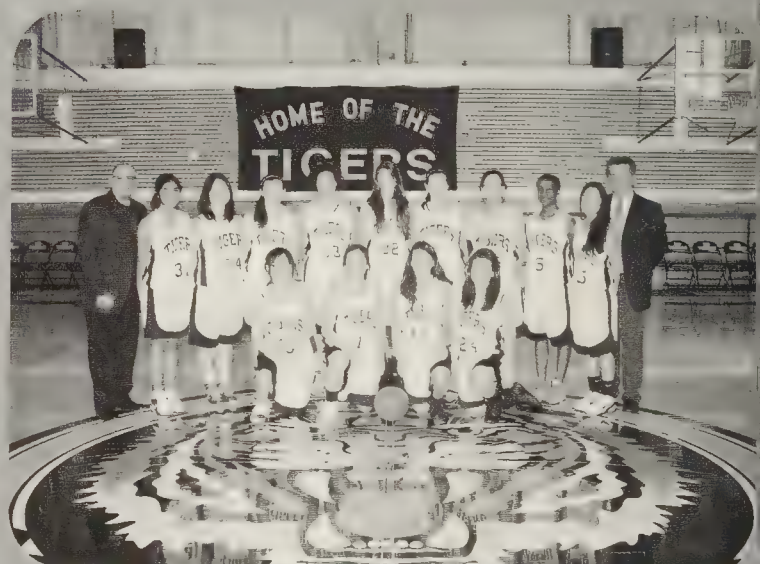

Boys' Frosh Soph Basketball

Boys' Frosh Basketball

Girls' Varsity Basketball

Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball

For the first time in our school's history, we had wrestlers who qualified for the NCS Championships. Charlotte Reider-Smith and Chelo Barton medaled in the girls' division, while Nathan Wertheimer, Alejandro Santana and Jackson Barnett qualified for the boys. Nick Peterson came in first place in the 145 pound division of the BCL Championships, and Jackson Barnett came in first place in the 160 pound division. Charlotte Reider-Smith, Nathan Wertheimer and Alejandro Santana came in 2nd place in their weight division.

The varsity girls' basketball team beat Convent in the last home game of the season. Convent was undefeated, and that was their first league loss in three years. The team qualified for the BCL West Semi-Finals, but lost in a tough game to the feisty wildcats. One of the most exciting games of the year was at Oracle Arena, where the girls' team took the last shot against the eventual BCL West Champions, University High School, to tie the game, and just missed. The girls almost won, coming back from a 12 point deficit in the fourth quarter.

The JV basketball girls had a great season as well. The JV squad went seven and three during the league season, and they were the Consolation Champions at the Terra Nova JV Girls Tournament. The JV girls' basketball team got hot at the end of the season, and won their last seven out of eight games.

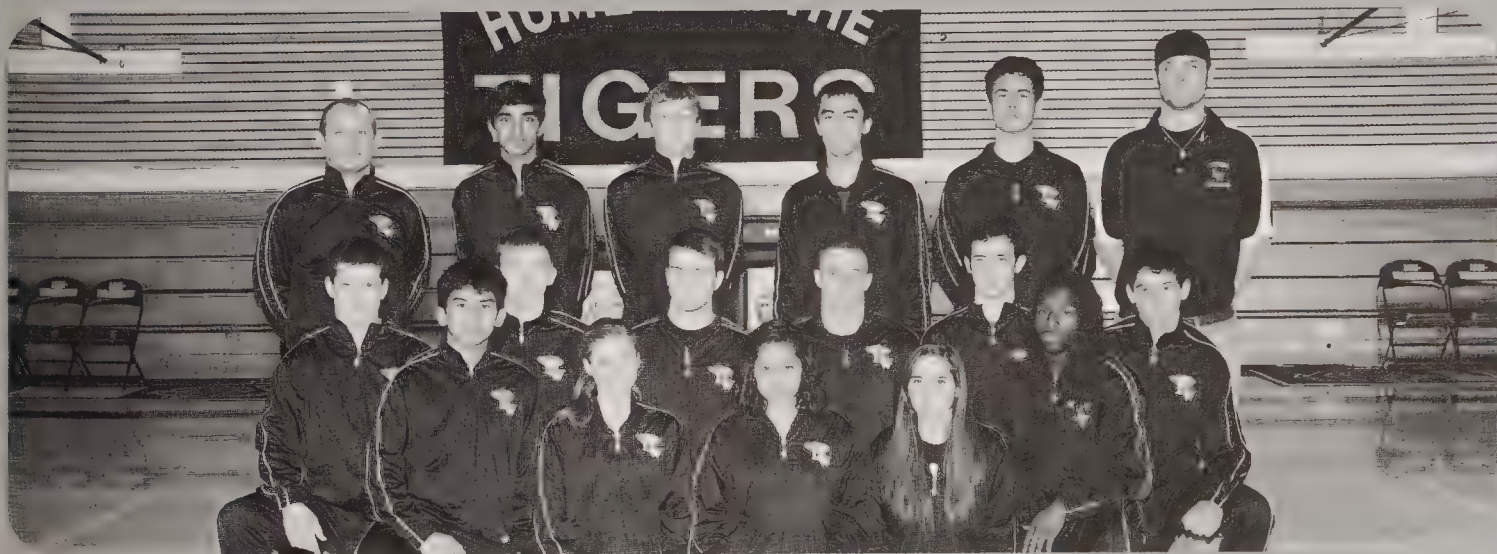

The varsity boys' basketball team had an unbelievable year. They played for the championship at the Lowell and Head-Royce tournaments. They beat University by 10 points at Oracle Arena and of course, defeated University 58-53 for the BCL West Championship. Unfortunately, the season came to an end during NCS, when they were defeated by a very big and athletic team from Justin Siena High School. All of us are very proud of their championship season.

The JV basketball boys had a very good pre-season, going five and three against some very difficult teams. During the league season, the JV boys fought to the very end and were involved in some very exciting games, including some close wins against Urban and Drew.

The frosh/soph boys had a fantastic season as well. The team went twelve and five during the season. They had a stretch during the season where they won eight out of nine games in a row. They beat every team in their league at least once. The boys won seven out of eight games during the league season and they ended up winning the BCL West Championship.

The frosh boys' basketball team had only eight players and a tough schedule because they were up against other schools' frosh/soph and JV teams. Their best game of the year was their last, which took place at University, where they scored over 35 points. All of their games were very exciting, and the boys demonstrated a great attitude and non-stop hustle in all of their games.

BOYS' BASKETBALL

Bas·ket·ball [bas-kit-bawl]

It is all about that L-O-V-E, T-E-A-M, and W-O-R-K.

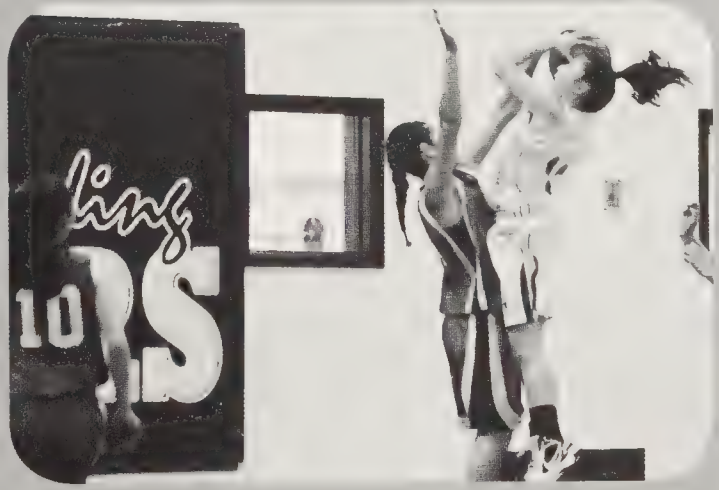

When the last horn sounded in the affectionately dubbed "rage cage", it was clear that it had been a banner year for your varsity basketball Lick Tigers in 2011-2012. Highlights included beating rival University High School twice (once at Oracle Arena), winning the league crown in March, and captivating the entire school with their signature brand of basketball and distinct swagger. This team was known around the city for their hard-nosed defense, athleticism, and team togetherness (a staple of any Eliot Smith coached team). The tigers featured a strong full court press and a multi-faceted offensive which brought the trophy back to Ocean Avenue for the first time in 5 years.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Bas-ket-ball [bah-skit-ball]

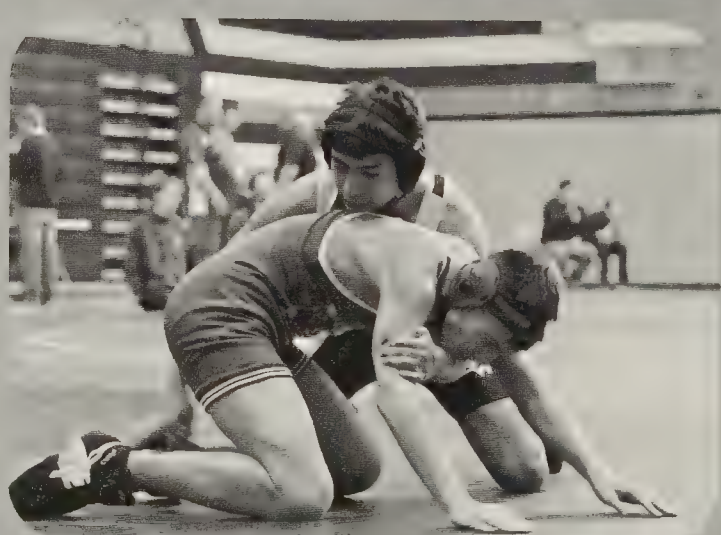

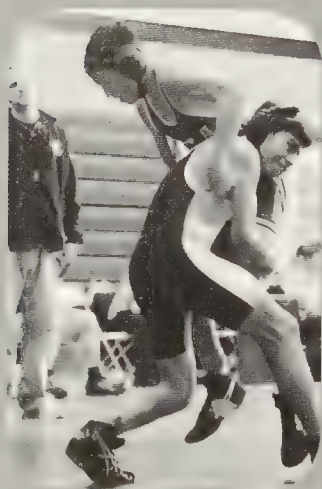

When a bunch of girls go hard in the paint.

The girls' varsity basketball team was led by a strong group of seniors, Katie Waters, Kaila Perez, Brenda Young, Hayley Lew and Emma Brenner-Bryant. The team accomplished a lot including a nail-biter game at Oracle, coming within one point of University in the last three minutes as well as an outstanding win over 3 time defending champions, Convent on senior night. While their season may have been cut short, this team will be remembered because of the outstanding effort put forward by each member of the team.

Baseball

Boys' Lacrosse, led by Coach Brady Boyd and Assistant Coach Logan Johnston, came off an exciting win over Dublin 7-4 after losing to them the first time. The team also had a very exciting overtime loss to SH 9-8. Brady is very impressed with the team's hard work and dedication: "This year's team has come out with the attitude that they want to get better and that know they can win some games against very good competition."

Girls' Lacrosse, led by Coach Nicolina Milani-Walker and Assistant Coaches Julia Chope and Elizabeth Ellerson, have their hands full because ten seniors graduated from last year's team (including a High School All-American). The girls play in a very challenging and competitive conference; they're the only sport in our school not BCL West. Coach Nicolina said that "even though we have lost some tough games, the scores don't indicate how proud I am of the team's effort and positive attitude."

Led by Hall of Fame Coach Jeff Gardiner and his 5 assistant coaches, the Track & Field team has come off another year of winning the Boys' and Girls' BCL West Championship. Already, Coach Gardiner has seen his 4x8 team set a school record. With over 50 athletes on the team, Coach Gardiner doesn't see any reason why they can't have the same success that the teams have had in the past.

Although this year's Baseball team is one of the youngest we've had at Lick, the Tigers have won most of their games this year and opened up the season with two wins over Marin Academy. The team was led by Coach Manny Granillo, who has been coaching baseball at Lick for over 20 years. Although this will be his last year, the whole baseball community will be forever grateful for all of the great memories that Coach Manny has brought.

The Varsity Girl's Soccer team is off and running with Coach Gavin Birmingham, assisted by All League Soccer Player Dimitri Barton '12. At this point, every one of the girls game has come down to one goal that has made the difference. This year, it should end up being a battle between Lick, Urban, University and Marin Academy.

The JV Girls' Soccer team is led by Coach Ryan Corriveau. The girls have won their first five out of seven games. Coach Ryan describes this year's team as "very aggressive and a team that really listens very well." At this point, the team looks like one of the strongest in the league.

Led by Coach Michael Axtell, the Varsity Boys' Tennis team is one of the strongest in the BCL West. The League Championship should come down to Lick, University and Marin Academy. Most of the players returned from last year's team, which made it to the NCS Playoffs. This year's matches show that this team could be even stronger. The team has won their first seven out of nine matches and have won most of their matches 7-0 or 6-1.

The JV Boys' Tennis team is filled with lots of great underclassmen and is led by Coach Mike Esola. Mike sees a lot of potential and believes that he will have a very good team. However, the team has been rained out four times already, and are still looking to playing their first match of the year.

Swimming is off to a great start, having already won all 3 of their swim meets. Coach Becky Wildman-Tobriner, a Lick alum, and Assistant Coaches Giles Thompson and James Ellingson have described this year's team as one of the strongest in a long time: Every returning swimmer from has already broken their personal record time, and they have some exciting new freshman on the team.

The Badminton team is led by Coaches Eliot Smith, Ronald Yee and Yetta Allen. The enthusiasm for badminton has really taken off: This year's team has over 30 players, and consists of many freshman and upperclassmen who play singles, doubles and mixed doubles. The badminton team is fortunate because they are able to play and practice on the 4 courts at Lick and the 8 courts at City College. At every home match, "Traditional Root Beer Floats" are passed out.

BOYS' LACROSSE

Boys' Lacrosse [boi's luh-kraws]
Baseball is sport...lacrosse is a lifestyle.

GIRLS' LACROSSE

la-crosse [luh-kraws]

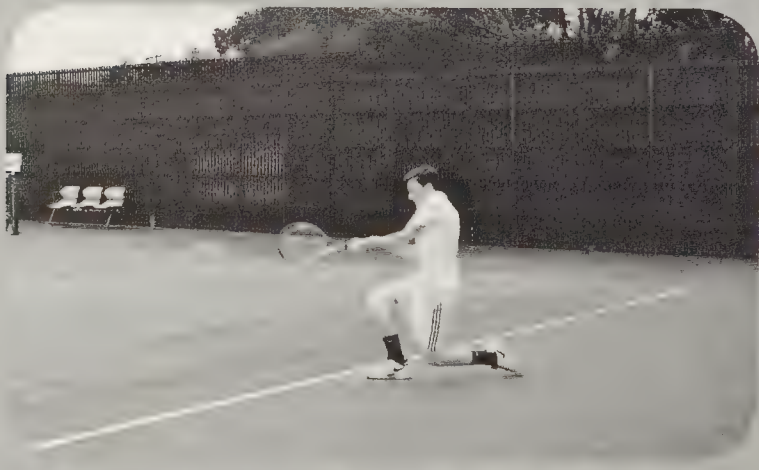

The newest and best team at Lick, a team of girls that only stops for lightning and can typically be found with their sticks and balls.

BOYS' TENNIS

Ten·nis [ten-is]

A group of young men that are frequently stereotyped as hotties and preps, but in truth are simply gentlemen that are good with their sticks.

GIRLS' SOCCER

Soc-cer [sok-er]

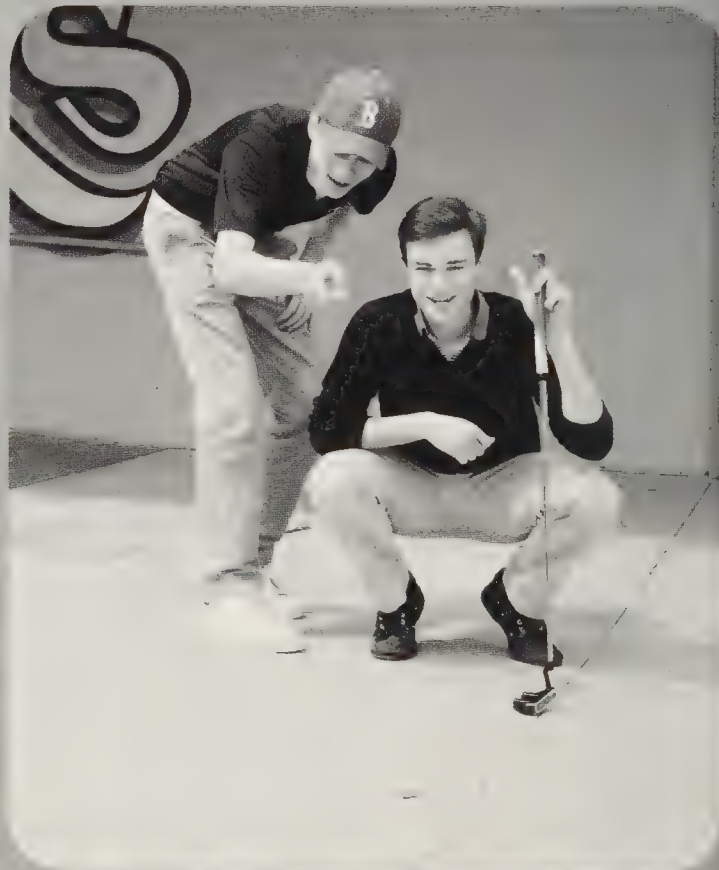

When one bossy Englishman orders around 18 girls.

GOLF

Golf [gawlf]

Although many assume that golf is a country club sport, it can truly be played by anyone anywhere. Since the Lick golf team ceased to exist this year, a few strapping young lads decided to just play at school.

"This yearbook page is the best thing to happen to the golf team all year!"

-Captain Isaac Maycock

"I love all the green out here."

-Captain Jeremy Moser

"I'm sick of this. I'll be on the 19th hole."

-Trey Tickner

"It takes a lot of balls to golf the way I do."

-Captain Jeremy Moser

"I know I'm getting better at golf because I'm hitting fewer spectators."

-Gerald Ford

"It took me 17 years to get 3000 hits in baseball. I did it in one afternoon on the golf course."

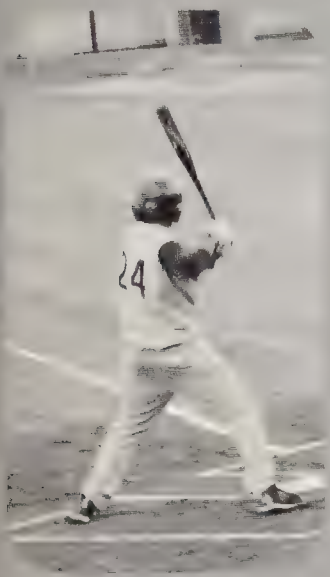

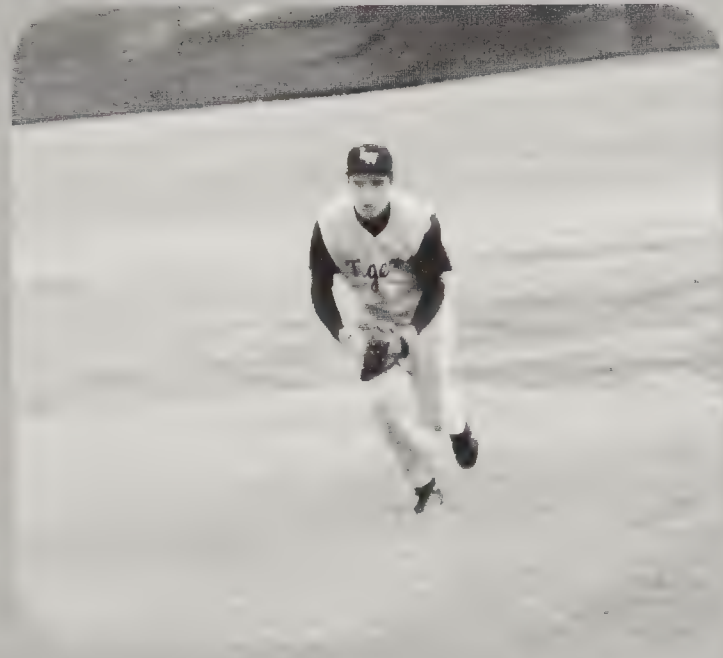

-Henry Aaron

BASEBALL

SWIMMING

swim·ming [swimi ng]

1. The only place outside of Europe where it is acceptable for men to wear Speedos.
2. A sport in which breathing is considered overrated.

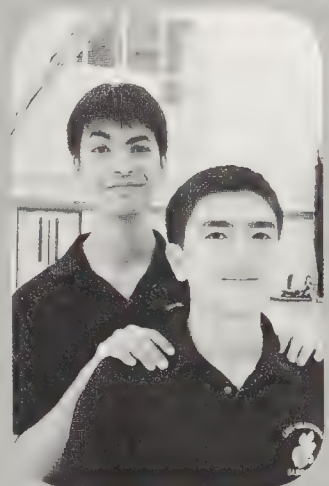

Lick's swim team is all about pushing limits, and making some extraordinary progress. With the help of its new head coach, Becky Wildman-Tobriner '99, the team will undoubtedly realize its ambitions. Assisting Becky are coaches Giles Thompson and James Ellingson, as well as the senior captains: Alex Urry, Bo Yan Moran, Lucas Zeppetello, and Saba Fazeli. Lick's swim team powered through a tough schedule, crushed personal records, and built a community of truly committed athletes.

BADMINTON

bad·min·ton [bad-min-tŋ]

The only sport where hitting a birdie won't upset PETA.

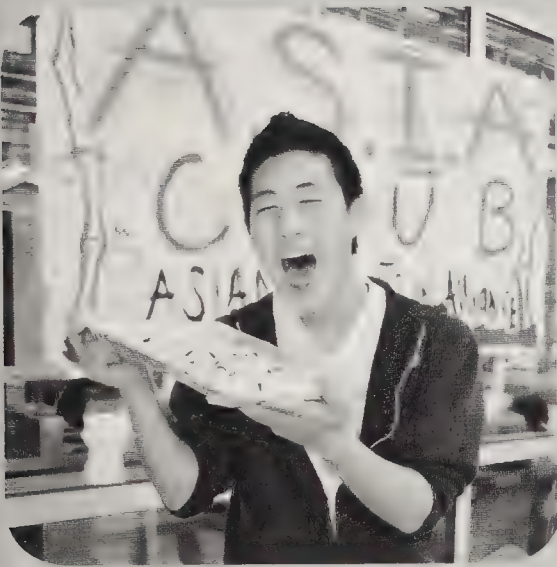

TRACK & FIELD

This year, members of PIES club went to downtown San Francisco loaded with baked goods and a ukelele. They offered a slice of pie to anyone who would answer this question: What would make the world a better place? Homeless people, business executives, and college students shared a range of answers from "creating a healthy fast-food chain" to "telling the truth." PIES released a home-made documentary about this experience and hopes to keep the conversation flowing. With its second year under its belt, PIES club looks to continue its mission of baking and volunteerism.

When we were kids, we handpainted strawberries on a swing
Every moment was so precious, then
I'm still kicking it, I'm daydreaming on a strawberry swing
The entire earth is fighting, all the world is at its end
Just in case, an atom bomb, comes falling on my lawn
I've loved the good times here, I've loved the good times here

I feel the warmth in great amounts
Two arms around me where it counts
The numbness fades from my small heart
I feel I've met my other part
This stranger here so sweet and kind
Had found me when I'd lost my mind
The cold and darkness had their prey
An angel came and took it away
The evils that had plagued me so
Now seem so distant, long ago
She saved me in my darkest hour
And rescued me with holy power
She was so gentle, she was so good
I cannot see past her pale hood
Her face is buried deep inside
As if she has something to hide
It matters not if she is foul
She need not hide within her cowl
Her thoughts and actions good and pure
My life is in the hands of her
So nothing matters, just we two
I grab her hood so I can see who
What I did learn leaves me confused
My sweet angel of release

Haah...I'm tired. I don't know how mangakas do it, but it took so much work to get these pages done. Sure it was fun (and 'm about twice as proficient at using a tablet now, yay!), but you know...a certain NIGEL should have been working as hard as me this week, so I didn't have to stay up until 6 two rights in a row. So Nigel, say it. Say it into the microphone. "Kurusu gomenasai". I'll forgive you if you say it properly (Yes Micah, I referenced L*ve Pl*s).

But thanks everyone for putting up with our artwork. I started drawing over the summer, so I'm still in the process of working all the little kinks out. Here's to hoping that 'll keep drawing and improving over the next few years. My partner over there and I are working on a Visual Novel that we hope to finish in the next year or so. It's still early in the works, but we're shooting to get two routes completed by the end of the year. Please support us!

Oh and I'll give a special thanks to the freshmen- you know who you are- who made the last couple of years so much more enjoyable. Seniors, I think Mulan's page sums up my thanks pretty well.

Thank you everyone for a great four years!

If you somehow managed to read this whole thing left-to-right, you're clearly doing it wrong

So...back on topic...What are you doing for college?

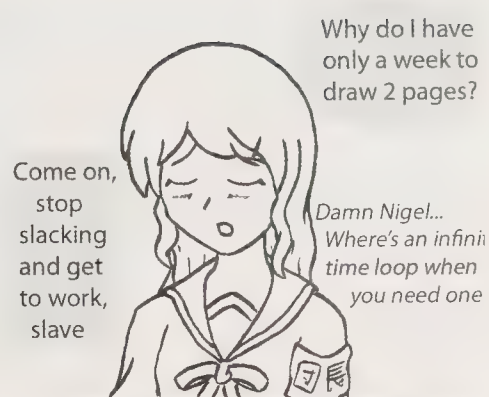

College? Pssh... I'm going to be a NEET. NEET detective

Fine I'll redraw myself

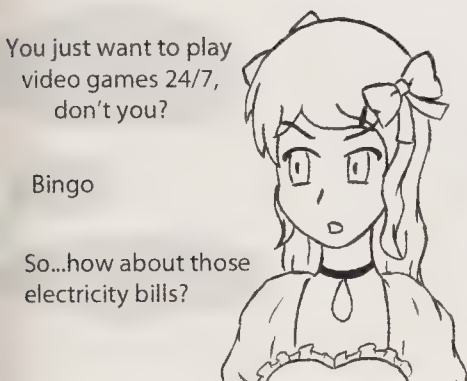

You do that

So complainitive...

Why do I have only a week to draw 2 pages?

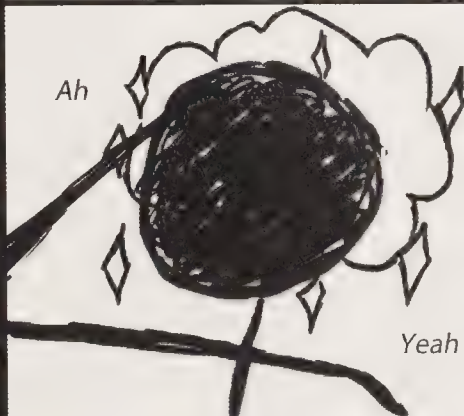

Damn Nigel... Where's an infinity time loop when you need one

You just want to play video games 24/7, don't you?

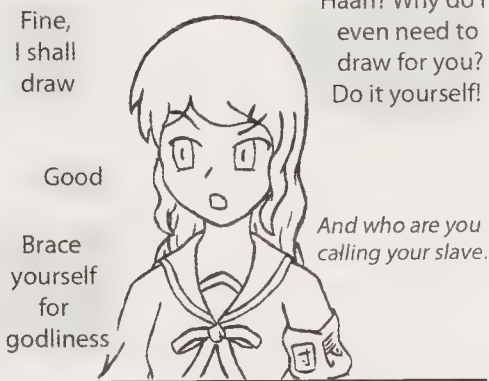

Bingo

So...how about those electricity bills?

Ah

Yeah

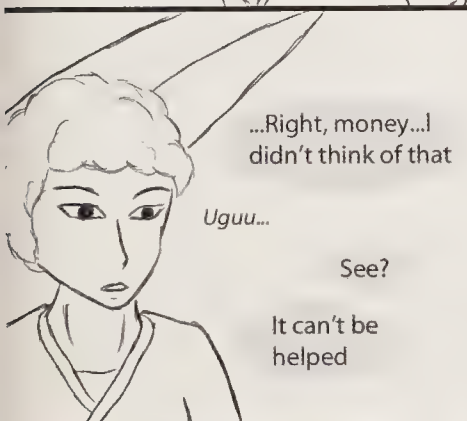

Fine, I shall draw

Haah? Why do I even need to draw for you? Do it yourself!

Good

Brace yourself for godliness

And who are you calling your slave.

...Right, money...I didn't think of that Uguu...

See?

It can't be helped

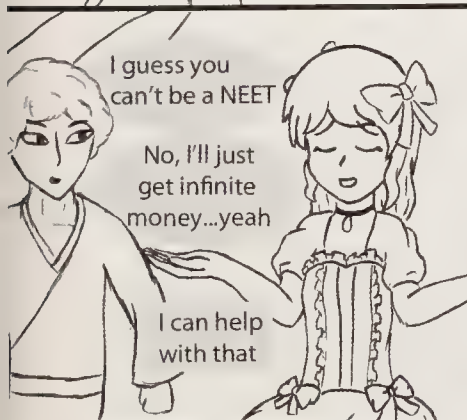

You know, you just drew sparkles

Sparkles make everything better! Like shoujo guys

Behold at my greatness!

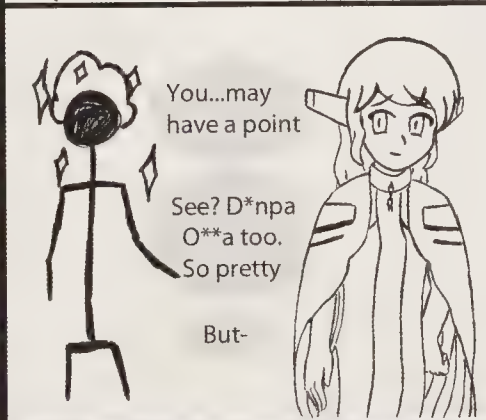

Now bow down and lick my feet. Go

I guess you can't be a NEET

No, I'll just get infinite money...yeah

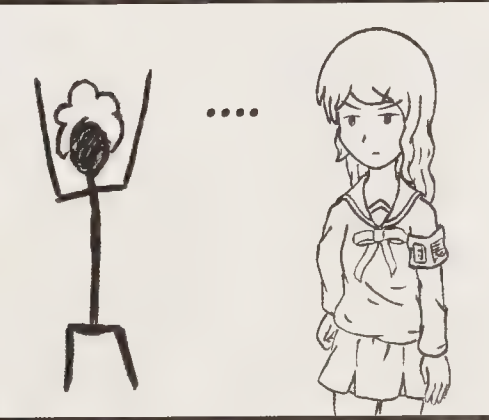

I can help with that

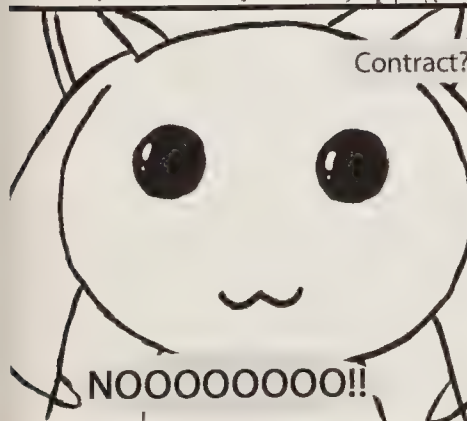

You...may have a point

See? D*npa Oa too. So pretty

But-

Anthony Michael Shaw

Anthony Severus Shaw (Klingon: thlegemy garafd thoretzin) was born June 9, 1969 to a muggle family in Marin (one of his many regrets is that he is at all associated with such an area). Not until 5 did they discover his magical abilities when he accidentally created a circular flying object over Roswell, New Mexico, which many believed was an Alien spacecraft (the United States Government denies that this happened.) He later enrolled in Hogwarts and became a member of Hufflepuff, likely because of his fondness for furry animals. He now has a pet echidna, which he enjoys snuggling with while watching Extreme Makeover Home Edition and spanish daytime dramas. After graduating from Hogwarts, Shaw created a cult worshipping Tinky Winky, the purple teletubby. His knowledge of Teletubby lore eventually got him elected to the cabinet of French Prime Minister Nicolas Sarkozy. (It doesn't take much to be part of the French government.) He later joined the administration of Bill Clinton, and like Bill, got himself involved with another woman. After meeting Hermione Granger at the Leaky Cauldron, he got himself caught up in a whirlwind romance. To this day Granger denies tha this ever happened, but the racey photos online suggest differently ;).

Despite being a wizard, Shaw believes that his greatest accomplishments are his novels. Some of the ones that he has written: How to Talk Smack While Playing Video Games, An Incredible Story about an Incredible Man: the Story of Trey Tickner, and Get off mah Jock!

Geoffrey Lines Tickner III

Geoffrey Pikachu Trey Charizard Lines Tickner the 100th (interbreeding takes place in the Tickner family) was born on June 6, 1966, just three years and three days prior to the birth of the greatest man to ever walk the face of the Earth, Anthony Shaw. After being summoned from his extreme super pokeball, he immediately achieved pokemon greatness when he defeated the invincible jigglypuff in an epic sing-off of "If I Were a Boy" (Trey also frequently dances the whole routine to "Single Ladies"). While frequently spending nights pouring his heart out to his little brother, Trey also enjoys serenading his pet chin-chilla while simultaneously standing on his tip-toes in order to practice his stance for his next ballet recital. After claiming to be really hardcore, Trey has recorded himself lying in the pokemon center waiting room for 48 hours straight while watching The Notebook and chewing on his former English/History papers that have received F's (he still has more than half of his papers remaining). Although Trey openly admits his love for two-foot 100-year old midgets, he and Misty were rumored to have an intimate relationship for all of 5 seconds (Ash Ketchum claims it only last 3 seconds).

Tickner and wizard friend Anthony Shaw enjoy a muggle delicacy "Ice Cream"

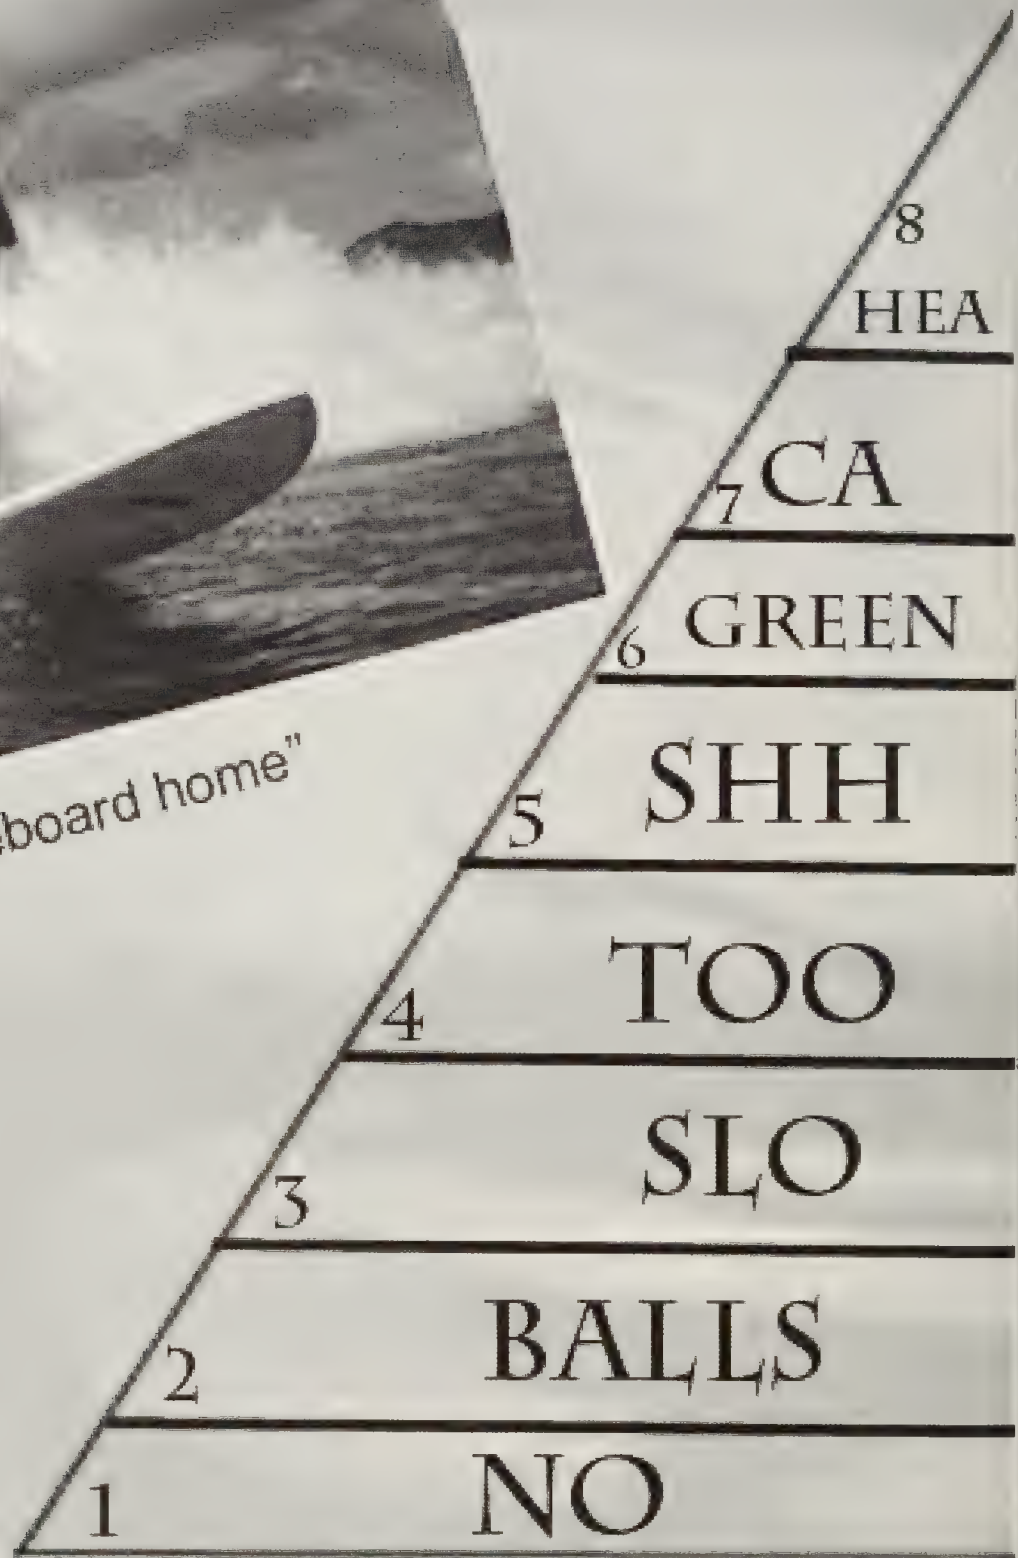

Trey has starred in several famous musicals including: Crying When the Stocks Fall, Whining When the Browns Come in Last Place Every Year, and A Love Story: Trey and His Blankey.
